He married Dora Belle LNU about 1899, in Georgia. Dora Belle LNU was born May 1876, in Georgia, died 5 Feb 1948, in Randolph County, Georgia.

In 1900, the family is found in two different census records. First, they are listed in Mystic, Irwin, Georgia as J.R. Stanford (22, laborer), Dora (23), and Haney J. (7/12). Second, there is a record for Moultrie, Colquitt, Georgia that lists James R. Stanford (25, carpenter), Dora (24), and Harly (7/12).

James registered for the WWI draft in Dublin, Laurens, Georgia, giving his birth date as 24 Aug 1876. At the time, his occupation was "track foreman, railroad" and he listed his wife as Dora Bell Stanford. The record also states "left eye bad".

In 1918, Homer registered for the WWI draft in Fountain, Bay, Florida. He was married and listed his occupation as "railroading". His birthdate is listed as 22 Oct 1888, but that year is not correct.

The 1920 census finds the family living in Fountain, Bay, Florida and the record lists Homer Stanford (39, railroad construcion), Madge (31), and Homer F. [Jr.] (8).

In 1930 the census lists the family in Palatka, Putnam, Florida living next door to Homer's brother George. The census includes Homer F. Stanford (48), Madge (38), and H.F. (18).

In 1935, the Florida State Census lists the family living in Precinct 3, Bay, Florida. This listing includes H. F. Stanford Sr. (48, merchant) and his wife Madge (42), his son H.F. Stanford [Jr.] (24, truck driver) and wife Margaret (20), and P.P. Stanford (83).

The 1940 census finds the family living in Panama City, Bay, Florida and includes Homer F. Stanford (59, owner, grocery store), Madge (50), Homer F. (29, warehouse), Gertrude (24, daughter-in-law), and Jacquiline Stanford (4, grand child). Living with them is Homer's father Porter P. Stanford (88).

The 1945 Florida State Census lists the family in Precinct 3, Bay, Florida and includes H.F. Stanford Sr. (64, merchant), Mrs. H.F. Stanford (50), and Mary Alice (15). Mary Alice does not appear in the 1930, 1935, or 1940 census...her exact relationship to Homer is unknown.

Homer's wife's first name is assumed to be Margaret...she is listed as "Madge" or "Maggie" in all census records and on her gravestone, both of which are nicknames for Margaret.

Vertie was the daughter of Willis J. Jones and his wife Mary. Some records indicate that her middle name was "Bessie", but her Florida Death Record shows "Bell".

Sometime prior to 1920, Vertie married Orlo W. Dykes (1 Jun 1893-30Sep 1935). Orlo and Vertie had five children.

After Homer's death, Vertie remarried in Sep 1963 to John F. Marchant (14 Jul 1889-24Jan 1991) in Bay County, Florida. Vertie and John are buried together.

Children of Homer Franklin Stanford and Margaret "Madge, Maggie" LNU:

- 950      i.    Homer Franklin Stanford, Jr., born 7 May 1911, in Mississippi, died 4 Apr 1973, in Panama City, Bay, Florida.

The 1940 census lists Holland Stanford (25, laborer, farm) living with his mother Mary E. Stanford (66, widowed) in Worcester County, Maryland.

Evidently, after Holland and Holland adopted Ellen's child, Winston Eugene Bailey, from her first marriage. The relationship is confirmed by a newspaper notice [The Daily Times, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland, 10 Oct 1958] that lists Winston Stanford as the grandson of Mrs. Ray Beachboard, Ellen's mother.

Holland's divorce in 1958, recorded in Arlington, Arlington, Virginia was initiated by his wife Ellen on the basis of "desertion" and states that the couple had been separated since 1952. This record indicates that the couple had one child. This record also indicates that Holland's occupation is "restaurant" and there he was living in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland at the time.

According to newspaper accounts from the 1950s and 1960s, Holland Stanford operated a restaurant and tavern on Route 113 south of Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland. On one instance in 1960, he was found guilty of illegally selling beer on Sunday and The Daily Times of Salisbury, Maryland reported on 5 May 1965 as follows:

"License Denied For Beer Permit

"SNOW HILL -- The Worcester County Alcohol License Board Tuesday turned down Holland Stanford's application for a renewal of a beer and wine license. Howard Collins, license inspector, testified he had received complaints from parents and others about Stanford's tavern about two miles south of Snow Hill on Rt. 113. Collins said at a teenage dance in Snow Hill on Dec. 30, 1964, a young man was arrested for having four cans of malt liquor in his possession. Under questioning, the young man stated that he had gotten it at Stanford's place and identified Stanford as the man who had sold the beer. Stanford was tried Jan. 5, 1965 before Snow Hill Magistrate William B Pilchard, Collins said. Stanford pleaded innocent and was fined $200 and costs. The sentence was appealed. At his appearance before the license board, Stanford indicated that if the picture that was being painted about his operation was so bad, he didn't want the license back. Commissioners conferred and decided not to grant it."

Holland Stanford died that same year and records show that Winston Eugene Stanford was appointed as administrator of his estate [Estate No. 5079].

Ellen was the daughter of Raymond Addison "Ray" Beachboard (1890-1952) and Lillian Mae Belote (1900-1968).

On 11 October 1939, Ellen married Edward Franklin Bailey (1917-1950) in Norfolk, Norfolk, Virginia. Winston was the son this marriage.

Based on her headstone, Ellen apparently remarried to a Penn sometime after 1958. This man has not yet been identified.

Children of Holland Stanford and Ellen Marie Beachboard:

- i. Winston Eugene Bailey Stanford, born 23 Dec 1940, in Worcester County, Maryland, died 12 Dec 1982, in Claymont, New Castle, Delaware, buried in Whatcoat United Methodist Church Cemetery, Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland.

Evidently, after Holland Stanford and Ellen Beachboard Bailey wed, Holland adopted Ellen's child, Winston Eugene Bailey, from her first marriage. The relationship is confirmed by a newspaper notice [The Daily Times, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland, 10 Oct 1958] that lists Winston Stanford as the grandson of Mrs. Ray Beachboard, Ellen's mother.

Winston is buried adjacent to the graves of his grandmother Mary E. Stanford and his father Holland Stanford, between his adoptive father and his mother, whose

In 1910, the census lists [William] Thomas Stanford (36, merchant, retail grocery), single, living in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland. Tom operated Stanford's Butcher Shop on Washington Street in Snow Hill for many years.

An article in the "Snow Hill Democratic Messenger" in 1910 states that Ida Virginia Hudson and William Thomas Stanford were married at the home of her parents in Wicomico County, Maryland.

On 12 Sep 1918, William registered for the WWI draft in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland. He listed his occupation as "merchant, self-employed" and his wife as Ida Virginia Stanford.

The 1920 census lists the family living in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland. This record lists Wm. Thomas Stanford (45, retail merchant, meats), Ida V. (34), Virginia N. (15), Sarah E. (6), Thomas H. (3-10/12), and James E. (5/12). The Virginia listed, based on her date of birth, appears to be the daughter from Ida's previous marriage. Since she is using the Stanford name, it is assumed that William formally or informally adopted her.

Sometime before 1930, Tom and Ida apparently separated (1) since we find Ida living alone with her children in the 1930 census and with her son James in 1940 and (2) William was buried with his second wife Carrie in Parsons Cemetery, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland.

In 1940, William T. Stanford (65, merchant, meat and groceries) is listed by the census living in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland by himself.

As reported by a family member, Tom spent the last four years of his life living with his daughter and son-in-law Sarah Elizabeth Stanford Wagg and Francis Wagg in Pottstown, Pennsylvania. While on a visit to his brother Jester in Spence, Worcester, Maryland, Tom fell ill and was taken to Salisbury Hospital, Wicomico, Maryland where he passed away after a short illness.

Ida was the daughter of Thomas Jefferson Hudson (1854-1937) and Sarah Elizabeth Birch (1856-1931).

This was Ida's second marriage. She married Whitney Purnell Pusey on 18 Feb 1903 in Worcester County, Maryland and had one daughter, Virginia Nellie, with him.

In 1930, the census lists Ida V. Stanford (45, dress maker, at home) living in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland with two of her children, Elizabeth S. (16) and James E. (10). In this record, she is listed as married, so we don't know when she and William actually divorced.

In 1940, Ida Stanford (55, nurse, private home) is listed living in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware with her son James E. Stanford (21) and his wife Louise (21). This record indicates that Ida and James had lived in Berkeley, Berkeley, California on 1 Apr 1935.

Children of William Thomas "Tom" Stanford and Ida Virginia Hudson:

- i. Virginia Nellie Pusey Stanford, Virginia Nellie Pusey, born 27 Jul 1904, in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland, died 22 Oct 1990, in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland, buried in Wicomico Memorial Park, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland. She married John Ralph Winbrow about 1927, in Maryland. John Ralph Winbrow was born 1899, in Maryland, died 1990, in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland, buried in Wicomico Memorial Park, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland.

Virginia Nellie was the daughter of Ida Virginia Hudson and Whitney Purnell Pusey. After Ida and Tom Stanford married, she was evidently adopted by Tom.

In 1930, the census finds Nellie V. Winbrow (26) and John R. Windbrow (30, parts manager, auto store) living in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland.

SSDI lists Virginia's last residence as Mardela Springs, Wicomico, Maryland.

Ralph was the son of Samuel Hicks Winbrow (1859 - 1911) and Mattie E. Ellis Winbrow Anstine (1861 - 1939).

- ii. Sarah Elizabeth Stanford, born 20 Aug 1913, in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland, died Dec 1979, in Pottstown, Montgomery, Pennsylvania. She married Francis E. Wagg about 1936. Francis E. Wagg was born 8 Apr 1905, in Pennsylvania, died Jun 1968, in Pottstown, Montgomery, Pennsylvania.

Sarah and Francis are listed in the 1940 "Pottstown, Pennsylvania, City Directory."

Sarah and Francis had two sons, Thomas F. Wagg (1937-2001) and Charles R. Wagg (1948- ).

- iii. Thomas H. Stanford, born 1915, in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland, died 1931, in Maryland, buried in Parsons Cemetery, Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland.

Thomas' birth and death years are those engraved on his gravestone. But, Thomas H. Stanford, is not listed in the 1930 census with his mother...it may be that his death was in 1930 rather than in 1931 as indicated by his gravestone.

- iv. James Edward Stanford, II, born about 1919, in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland.

He married Louise Jeanette Beauchamp 15 Jun 1940, in Portsmouth, Portsmouth, Virginia. Louise Jeanette Beauchamp was born about 1919, in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland.

James was apparently named after his grandfather.

In his 1940 Virginia marriage certificate, James is listed as a seaman.

The 1940 census lists James Stanford (21, seaman, boat) and his wife Louise (21, bookkeeper, textile mill) living in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware. Living with them is James' mother, Ida Stanford (55, divorced, nurse, private home). From this record, we learn that James and his mother Ida were living in Berkeley, Berkeley, California in 1935. Between 1935 and 1940, they returned to Maryland and James married Louise.

In 1946, the "Wilmington, Delaware, City Directory" lists Jas. E. Stanford (conductor, PRR [Pennsylvania Rail Road]) and Louise B. Stanford living at 109 S. Scott, Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware.

Louise was the daughter of Eugene Beauchamp and Waley Timmon.

The 1940 census indicates that Louise was living in rural Worcester County, Maryland in 1945.

The 1900 census finds Charles L. Stanford (23, teamster) working on the farm as a laborer for Sallie M. Lewis at Chincoteague Island, Accomack, Virginia. This records provides his date of birth.

In 1910, the census lists Mollie Stanford (24, basketmaker, fruit baskets), William (9), Gracie (7), Lilian (5), and Iona (2). Living with the family is Jennie Scott (48, widow), Mollie's mother. Since Mollie is listed as single in this record, it can be assumed that she and Charles separated before 1910.

Mollie was the daughter of Thomas Scott and Elizabeth Jane "Jennie" Scott.

In 1910, the census finds the family living in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland and lists Mollie Stanford (24, single, basket maker, tourist baskets), William (9), Gracie (7), Lilian (5), and Ivona (2). Living with them is Mollie's mother Jennie Scott (48).

The 1920 census lists the family living in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland and lists Molly Stanford (33, operator, shirt factory), Grace Stanford (16, operator, shirt factory), Lillian Stanford (14), and Iona Stanford (12). Living with them is Mollie's mother Jennie Scott (65).

Children of Charles Levi Stanford and Mollie Scott:

- i. William Thomas Stanford, II, born 16 Mar 1901, in Accomack County, Virginia, died Jan 1970, in Baltimore, Baltimore, Maryland.

Evidently, William was named in honor of his father's brother.

On 12 Sep 1918, William was living in Salisbury, Wicomico, Maryland when he registered for the WWI draft. In this record, he listed his full name and date of birth as 16 Mar 1900 [this is an error, his year of birth was 1901] and wrote "my mother Mollie Stanford" to define his nearest living relative. His occupation was listed as "railroading, New York Philadelphia R.R. Co."

In 1920, the census lists William T. Stanford, born about 1901 in Virginia, as a Private in the Headquarters Company, 17th Infantry Division, U.S. Army stationed at Camp Meade, Anne Arundel, Maryland. In this record, he is listed as "single."

The 1930 census finds William Stanford (29, tinner, house) living as a roomer in the Byrnes household in Baltimore, Baltimore, Maryland. In this record, he is listed as "single."

In 1940, the census lists William T. Stanford (39, roofer, roof contractor) as a roomer in the Malone household in Baltimore, Baltimore, Maryland. In this record, he is listed as "divorced." Evidently, William married after 1930 and divorced before 1940. His wife's name is not known at this time.

- ii. Grace Stanford, born about 1903, in Accomack County, Virginia.
- iii. Lillian Stanford, born about 1905, in Accomack County, Virginia.
- iv. Iona Stanford, born about 1908, in Worcester County, Maryland.

Many of the Jester family, originally from Worcester County, Maryland, moved to Delaware in the early 1800's and then to Ohio before 1850. The Delaware Archives lists at least 18 different Jesters who served either in the French and Indian War, the Revolutionary War, or the War of 1812. Jester Stanford was named for this family connection through his grandmother.

On 31 May 1917, Jester registered for the WWI draft in Snow Hill, Worcester, Maryland. At this time, he was single and listed his employment as "partner, market".

Jester was inducted in the U.S. Army on 27 May 1918, served overseas in France from 9 Jul 1918 until 27 May 1919, and was honorably discharged on 9 Jun 1919.

The 1930 census finds Jester Stanford (37, truckman, automobile co.) and Esther Stanford (24) living in Chester, Delaware, Pennsylvania.

In 1940, the census lists the family living in Worcester County, Maryland and lists Jester Stanford (47, truck driver, state roads), Esther (34), Alice B. (8), and Nancy L. (4).

Jester's draft card for WWII (1942) shows his wife's name as Esther Virginia Stanford and that he was employed by the Maryland State Roads Commission.

Esther was the daughter of Lee Washington and Nancy Blanche Payne.

A family story is that at the age of six years George helped his father by going door to door with his little red wagon full of oysters and selling them to the few inhabitants of the small community. His father was a waterman and George followed in his footsteps, sailing the local waterways of Maryland and Virginia, traveling to Washington, D.C. to sell his seafood.

George moved to Washington in 1880/1890 with his parents. The "Washington City, District of Columbia Directory" of 1898 lists the George H. Stanford living at 1111 6th Street, SW (with his parents). His occupation is listed "restaurant".

In the 1900 census, we find George H. Stanford (25) and his wife Winniford (19) living in Washington, DC.

By 1910, George had divorced and remarried and was living in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia four houses down from his father. The census record includes George H. Stanford (35, oysterman on dredge boat), Josephine (25), and Evelyn (2).

From about 1915 until the late 1930s, George was a retail seafood dealer and operated a sitdown seafood restaurant at the Municipal Fish Market (11th Street Wharf) on the waterfront in Washington, District of Columbia. By 1940, he had turned over operation of the business to his son Winthrop George Stanford.

On 12 Sep 1918, George registered for the WWI draft in Washington, District of Columbia, listing his occupation as "fish and oyster dealer". He listed his closest relative as his mother, Emma.

The 1920 census finds the family living in Washington, District of Columbia and includes George H. Stanford (44, retail merchant-seafood), Josephine A. (34), Evelyn L. (11), Dorothy M. (9), George W. (7), Josephine A. (4), and Margaret M. (1-11/12). Living with them are Josephine's mother, father, and two siblings, along with a boarder.

In 1930, the census finds the family in Washington, District of Columbia with George H. Stanford (52, dealer-seafood), Josephine (41), Dorothy M. (19), George W. (17), Josephine (14), Mary M. (12), Franklin P. (6) and Agnes M. (3-10/12). Living with them also is Evelyn Lafontaine, their daughter, who evidently has returned home. Julius Philips, a brother-in-law, also lives with the family.

The "Washington City, District of Columbia Directory" of 1932 lists the George H. Stanford and his wife Josephine living at 601 G Street, SW. His occupation is listed "oysters" and "seafood".

The 1940 census lists the family living on S Street, SW, Washington, District of Columbia and includes George H. Stanford (66), Josephine (55), Franklin (16), and Agnes (13). Living with them is daughter Margaret Stanford Martin (22) and her son Edward Martin (2). Evidently, George had retired by this time as no employment is listed in the census record.

He was known as "Captain George" to friends and business associates.

According to his daughter Agnes Stanford Wilson, "He was a caring, dedicated family man who worked hard, drank hard, and as a loyal member of the "Royal Order of Elks" which he joined in 1923 - enjoyed an active social life. The family spent many delightful summers at River Springs in St. Mary's County, Maryland, where, in 1933, he finally purchased a summer house located on St. Patrick's Creek, just off the lower Potomac river, remaining in the family until 1958. A haven for family and friends, it was soon to become the "playground" for the many social events of a group of "ELKS" who referred to themselves as the "Jolly Antlers." An avid fisherman, he enjoyed many pleasurable hours on the water, usually bringing in a sizable catch of Rockfish and Croakers. On many occasion, utilizing his well-honed skills at oystering, he would harvest several bushels of the tasty morsels for the enjoyment of many at one of his "famous" oyster roasts for which he was noted. He was quite popular and highly regarded in the community and affectionately referred to as "Captain George."

"Generous to a fault at times, he was always ready to offer a helping hand to the needy, regardless of those difficult years during the "Great Depression." The DC Orphans Asylum could always depend on him for their Friday night meal. He aided in the care of his aging parents, moving them from Colonial Beach to a dwelling next to his own, ensuring them a comfortable living until their deaths in 1928 and seeing to their proper burials. In retrospect, it seems he spent his life taking care of family and friends on both sides always "bailing" someone or the other out of trouble!

"Weather permitting, Papa enjoyed walking the few blocks to his restaurant each day. Most always, his cold weather attire was a business suit with several layers of sweaters under the jacket he never wore an overcoat and always wore a hat of some kind. His summer attire, when in the city, usually consisted of light-weight trousers, short-sleeved shirt and a straw hat. His generally ever-present tie was always adorned with his prized diamond, horseshoe pin and with his Elk's tooth fob, and gold watch hanging from a chain on his vest. He wore several diamond rings on his fingers he assumed quite a dapper figure. He was six feet tall with a stocky build and wore a 9 1/2 shoe.

"Ill health befell him in his later years, suffering with high blood pressure and undoubtedly, as we are well aware of today, dangerously high cholesterol - due, in part, to his many hard years as a waterman, heavy drinking, and an extremely improper diet. A very bad fall on a winter's day from an icy pier into a rowboat resulted in several broken ribs and an arm. He was left incapacitated in a full, upper-body hard cast, which encompassed his shoulder and arm down to the wrist. For several months, he suffered much pain and discomfort, taking its toll on him physically. Not too many years after this incident, he succumbed to his failing health and died on 15 Oct 1945. An autopsy revealed that ruptured arteries bled into his stomach causing him to hemorrhage, losing most of the blood in his body.

"Overflowing with a profusion of floral tributes, among them an anchor and a ship's wheel, he was laid out in the parlor of the home he loved so much. A very emotional memorial service by his brother Elks and a twenty-eight car funeral procession to Fort Lincoln Cemetery in NE, DC, where he was laid to rest with a final farewell."

Winifred was the daughter of W. B. Shaw and Mary Simpson.

After her divorce from George Henry Stanford, Winifred Shaw Stanford married William E. Warters (b. New Bern, Craven, North Carolina, 1883, d. 1953) in Cuyahoga County, Ohio on 10 Sep 1906. The 1910 census finds the couple living as boarders in the Dorer household in Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, lists William W. Warters (28) and Winiford Warters (27), and indicates that this is Winiford's second marriage. William's occupation is listed "chauffer, private family". Winthrope does not appear in this record.

Winifred's marriage to William Warters ended in divorce before 1917. (When William registered for the WWI draft in Ohio in 1917, he listed his wife as "Marianna Warters," indicating that he had remarried.)

Winifred married Henry Pierce Reston (b. 11 May 1893, Albany, New York) on 10 Aug 1914 in Manhattan, New York and the 1920 census finds Winifred (38) and Henry (26) living in Manhattan, New York, New York. Winthrop Stanford (15), listed as "stepson", is living with them.

Prior to 1925, Winifred and Henry evidently separated. The 1925 New York State Census lists Winifred Reston (44, dressmaker) living as a roomer on West 113th Street, New York, New York. The 1930 census lists Henry P. Reston and his new wife Constance W. Reston living in Queens, Queens, New York.

No records for Winifred after 1925 have yet been found.

Josephine was the daughter of John Richard Phillips (c1850-1907) and Agnes Theresa Ebert (1852-1831).

In the 1920 census, Agnes T. [Catherine Phillips Bernhardt] (66, b. Germany), Josephine's mother, and three of her other children (Josephine's step siblings), all with the Bernhardt surname, are living with George and Josephine in Washington, District of Columbia.

The 1930 census lists Julius Philips, living with the family, as "brother in law" to George H. Stanford (listed head of household), making him Josephine's brother.

According her daughter Agnes "Adgie" Stanford Wilson, "Josephine was quite attractive, being slight of build with eyes a deep shade of blue her complexion was fair and she was endowed with beautiful, thick, dark brown, curly hair. She wore only a four and a half shoe size all her adult life. Having an average intelligence, she was very gregarious, had a reasonably good sense of humor it would seem, she never met a stranger!

"Out of necessity, at the end of her third year of schooling, she was forced to leave school and find work to help support the growing family. Having no skills to speak of, she was offered a seamstress apprenticeship. She became very proficient and earned three dollars a week. Born and raised in S. W. Washington, she attended St. Dominic's Catholic Church, from which, years later, she would be forced to face the pain and humiliation of denouncement due to her marriage with a divorce man. Developing into a beautiful young woman who loved to sing and dance, she was blessed with a compassionate and charitable inner spirit.

"Her love of dancing she became quite accomplished at it - increased her popularity into a "bell of the ball," inevitably catching the eye of the dashing, handsome George Stanford. At the age of twenty-one, she was ardently courted by George, an excellent dancer himself together they were the recipients of many ballroom dancing awards for the Waltz and the Cakewalk (one of their most favored dances of the era). At age twenty-two, the couple married, eventually raising a large family of five girls and three boys, one of whom was the son from George's first marriage.

"Lovingly spoiled by her husband with fashionable clothing, cars, vacation trips, a large, impressive home with a maid and a summer in the county, she was for the most part unaffected and was happiest when doted on by her children and grandchildren, all of them calling her "Mother." Her devotion to family and friends was endless. Her door was always open, and because of her generous spirit, that door was never unanswered when knocked on by a down-and-out person in need of a meal or a little change. It was evident that she possessed an innate need to be needed, and as a frustrated nurse, "she was always on call" she was there at the "drop of a hat" to tend the sick and infirm.

"Although blessed with certain talents, artistic ability was, sadly, not among them. However, she dearly loved to paint and was in her glory with a bucket and brush. I often remarked, "I think Mother was born with a paint brush in her hand." Oh, if only that country house, bearing its multitudes of layers of paint, could talk! Just like a "mad scientist," she was bent on creating her own colors for the outdoor furniture by mixing all the remaining dib-dads of leftover paint from her previous summer's handy work, producing colors even Rembrandt couldn't possibly visualize! Often found swinging from a ladder with bucket and brush as she plied her artistic talents on the house, it was inevitable that she would someday take a fall - which she finally did at age seventy-two, breaking a wrist.

"Aside from her love of sewing and crocheting and putting together puzzles, a good game of cards rated high among her favorite pastimes. She loved driving her cars, especially the green Reo Roadster with a rumble seat, spending many happy hours visiting her siblings, friends, and numerous relatives. She seemed content with these pleasures, but after the death of her husband in 1945, she seemed to need something more to fill her days and sometime in the 1950's with her sister, Lena, she joined the Ladies Auxiliary of the National Capital Veterans of Foreign Wars, becoming, as they called themselves, a "Cootiett." She was later elected as "Banner Bearer," enjoying many years of participation in their numerous annual parades, ceremonial events, and social functions proudly sporting their red, white, and blue uniforms. During this time, she formed many new friendships, several of which remained steadfast for the rest of her life.

"Mother was pretty even-tempered and very much a lady. Her use of the word "damn" was about her most unladylike form of expression when her temper did flare. She was a woman of simple needs. Although she loved her homes and maintained them with a modicum of good housekeeping, she enjoyed more the comfort and feeling of security they offered. Content with familiar surroundings, her loving family and close circle of friends was seemingly enough to fill her life. She never traveled too far from home and being fearful of flying, she refused to visit a daughter living in Guam for fear that "something might happen, and I would never get back home."

"With her eighties fast approaching and her ever-returning children finally gone, she gave up the last home which was, by that time, right next door to her oldest daughter of Silver Spring, Maryland, to reside with her for the remainder of her life. After a lifetime of drinking very little alcohol, she finally acquired a taste for it, and she looked forward each evening to their "happy hour." Health wise, she was remarkable most of her life she weighed ninety-eight pounds, never suffered an illness more serious than pneumonia, and she was always a bundle of energy. She developed emphysema in her later years, lost most of her hearing, and the steady progression cataracts left her almost blind at the end.

"All in all, she enjoyed a long, happy life, loved and admired by so many. She reigned over her family with a "velvet glove" and regaled in her position as the "Queen Bee" into which we made her. Many a heart was broken when she left this life on January 12, 1980 at the age of ninety-five. She was laid to rest with her beloved husband at Fort Lincoln Cemetery in DC where several family members have since joined them and more awaiting their turn to be reunited."

Charles was the son of Charles Robert Wilson (1903-1932). His mother's name is unknown.

1970, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Westmoreland County, Virginia. He married Maria Rebecka Lucht 7 Jun 1900, in New York, New York. Maria Rebecka Lucht was born 3 Feb 1878, in Osterwanna, Niedersachsen, Germany, died 25 Feb 1954, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Westmoreland County, Virginia.

William lived in New York for several years, married there, and his first two children were born there. During this period, he worked at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The "Washington City, District of Columbia Directory" of 1898 lists the William J. Stanford living at 1111 6th Street, SW (with his parents). His occupation is listed "lab[orer]".

In 1910, the census finds the family in Washington District (Colonial Beach), Westmoreland, Virginia and lists William Stanford (32), Rebecca (32), George A. (9), Grace (7), Virginia (6), Viola (4), Helen (2), and Mildred (3/12).

William registered for the WWI draft in Washington, District of Columbia. His registration card lists his occupation as owner and captain of schooner, sailor. He listed his wife Maria Rebecca Stanford as his nearest living relative.

The 1920 census lists the family in Washington, DC and record includes William Stanford (42, merchant), Rebecca M. (41), George A. (18), Grace V. (17), Virginia E. (15), Viola R. (13), Helen M. (11), William J. (8), Landon R. (4), and Margaret C. (1).

There is a record dated 3 Mar 1926 for an application [No. 1534738] and award of a military pension [on 8 Jul 1926] to William J. Stanford in Virginia for his service in 1898-1899 [Spanish-American War] as an Ordinary Seaman [in the U.S. Navy or Coast Guard?] off the coast of Massachusetts and Vermont.

In 1930, the family is back in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia and the U.S. census lists William J. Stanford (53, boat captain), Rebecca M. (52), Landon (15), Margaret (12), Clarence (9), and Catherine (6). Also, the 1930 "Head of Household" census for Colonial Beach lists William J. Stanford (b. 1877).

The 1940 census lists William J. Stanford (63, waterman, crabbing) living in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, along with two of his sons, George A. (39) [who also appears in a separate 1940 census listing] and Clarence (19) [who also appears in a separate 1940 census listing]. Evidently, different census takers counted some folks twice and did not connect William J. and Rebecca in the same household record.

William founded Stanford's Marine Railroad and was a boat builder in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia. He was known as "Captain Billy". After his death, his son Clarence took over operations of the facility.

Rebecca was the daughter of Christian Lucht and his wife Margaret.

The 1940 census finds Rebecca M. Stanford (62, born Germany) living in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, along with her daughter Catherine E. (16).

Children of William Jeador "Captain Billy" Stanford and Maria Rebecka Lucht:

William Moriarty Barbour was born 28 Oct 1906, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia, died 29 Dec 1966, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia, buried in Mount Comfort Cemetery, Alexandria, Fairfax, Virginia.

The 1940 census finds Va. E. Stanford (35) living with her husband Wm. M. Barbour (33, fireman, city fire dept.) in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia. Living with the family is her sister Margaret Stanford (22) and daughter Evelyn [Eveleth Pearl] Sanford (19) from her previous marriage.

William was the son of WilliamThomasBarbour and Sarah Elizabeth Moriarty.

This was William's second marriage. He married Lillian R. LNU on 11 Jan 1928, but the couple divorced in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia on 24 Jul 1939.

William's death certificate shows that upon his death he was Assistant Chief of the Alexandria Fire Department. He died of acute coronary thrombosis, impacted by cirrhosis of the liver. This record lists his wife's name as Vera L. Barbour.

William remarried sometime after Virginia's death in 1950 and the City Directory for Alexandria 1954-1959 lists both William and Vera living in the city. The 2016 obituary for Eveleth Pearl Sanford Cavaliere, Virginia Earl Stanford Barbour's daughter by her first husband Elton Sanford, references "step parents William M. and Vera L. Barbour."

- iv. Viola Ruth Stanford, born 7 Feb 1906, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, died 10 Oct 1999, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, buried in Saint Peter's Cemetery, Oak Grove, Westmoreland, Virginia. Waylon Wickley Groves was born 26 Sep 1899, in Remington, Fauquier, Virginia, died 27 Dec 1990, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, buried in Saint Peter's Cemetery, Oak Grove, Westmoreland, Virginia.

The 1930 census finds Viola (28) and her husband Waylon Groves (31) living in Washington, District of Columbia, where she is a cook for a yacht club. Living with them is her brother William J. Stanford (18).

Waylon was the son of George Washington Groves (1852 ) and Caroline "Carrie" T. Kendrick (1860 ).

- v. Helen May Stanford, born 10 Mar 1908, in Virginia, died 22 Oct 1985, in San Francisco, San Francisco, California. She married (1) John Storm 1929, in Washington, District of Columbia. John Storm was born 9 Sep 1898, in Washington, District of Columbia, died Dec 1982, in Port Tobacco, Charles, Maryland. They were divorced before 1934, in Washington, District of Columbia. She married (2) Charles Albert Knox 1934. Charles Albert Knox was born 8 Jan 1902, in Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie, Iowa, died 7 Oct 1965, in Maryland.

Helen and Charles had two children.

There is some doubt as to John's actual date of birth. Most records indicate that he was born on 9 September, while others state 10 September. While most records show the year of his birth as 1887, the record from 1900 lists 1898. On the basis of census records, the 1898 date is used here.

John's parents are unknown. In 1900, the census lists John Storm (b. Sep 1898) as an "inmate" at the Washington Hospital for Foundlings, Washington, District of Columbia.

The 1910 census finds John Storm (11, b. Washington, District of Columbia) as a resident of the Hebrew Orphans Home, Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia. John Storm enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps from 29 Jun 1917 until 13 Aug 1919 and served in WWI in France.

In 1920, the census finds John E. Storm (21, single) living in Washington, District of Columbia and working as a printer.

The 1930 census finds John Storm (31, letter carrier, U.S. Post Office) and Helen (21) living in Washington, District of Columbia. This record indicates that the couple have been married for 1 year.

In 1940, the census lists the family living in Prince George's County, Maryland and includes Charles Knox (38, contractor, construction) and Helen (32).

- vi. Mildred Louise Stanford, born 20 Dec 1909, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, died 26 Sep 1910, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia.

- viii. Catherine Elizabeth Stanford, born 1913, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, died 1913, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia. Cause of death: stillborn.
- ix. Landon Richard Stanford, born 30 Mar 1915, in Virginia, died 1 Mar 1946, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia, buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Westmoreland County, Virginia. Cause of death: work accident.

In 1940, the census lists Landon (25, repairing boats, boatyard) living in what appears to be a boarding house with his brother Clarence in Cople, Westmoreland, Virginia.

Landon is listed as a serving member of the armed forces during WWII on the Colonial Beach Roll of Honor Marker, erected in 1947, located at the intersection of Beach Terrace and Boundary Street in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia. He served in the U.S. Navy aboard a minesweeper in the Pacific Theater.

Soon after leaving military service at the end of WWII, Landon was killed as the result of a marine railway accident...the jacks slipped on a boat that Landon was working under and the boat fell, resulting in fatal head injuries.

- x. Margaret Christine Stanford, born 20 Jan 1918, in Washington, District of Columbia, died 4 Dec 1974, in Orange County, California. She married James Paul Mann 3 Nov 1945, in Alexandria, Virginia. James Paul Mann was born 26 Jul 1918, in Ohio, died 30 Jul 1996, in Orange County, California.

In 1940, the census lists Margaret Stanford (22, stenographer, electric industry) of Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia in the household of her sister Virginia Earl Stanford Barbour and Virginia's husband William in Alexandria, Virginia. Evidently, Margaret was visiting when the census was taken.

- 963 xi. Clarence Henry Stanford, born 15 Jun 1920, in Washington, District of Columbia, died 12 Jan 2006, in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia.
- xii. Catherine Elizabeth Stanford, born 20 Aug 1923, in Washington, District of Columbia, died 30 Jul 2013, in Hampton, Virginia, buried in St. Peter's Cemetery, Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia. She married Walter A. Scott after 1940. Walter A. Scott was born Mar 1920, in Lancaster County, Virginia, died 21 Oct 1981, in Hampton, Hampton, Virginia, buried in Saint Mary's Whitechapel Episcopal Churchyard, Lancaster, Lancaster, Virginia.

Walter was the son of Thomas and Sadie B. Scott.

According to listings in the Alexandria, Virginia City Directory, Frank was living in Alexandria by 1907. He is listed in the 1910 census for Alexandria Ward 4, Alexandria, living with his sister Catherine and her husband Charles Jewell. In that census, his occupation is listed as "fireman." But, Frank was also listed with his parents in the 1910 census in Washington, District of Columbia.

In 1916, the Alexandria, Virginia City Directory lists Frank Stanford living with the James D. Beales household at 115 N. Fayette, indicating that he and Mamie had married before this time.

On 5 Jun 1917, Frank registered for the WWI draft in Washington, District of Columbia. At that time, he was married and working as a laborer for the American Ice Company. In this registration, he listed his date of birth as 11 Jul 1889.

Ollie served as a Corporal in Company A, 68th Engineers Battalion, U.S. Army during WWI.

The 1920 census finds Ollie (29) living with his parents in Washington, District of Columbia. In this record, he is listed as married, but Mamie is not listed. Evidently, Ollie and Mamie separated about 1919 and divorced soon after 1920. Mamie remarried about 1923 and Ollie remarried before 1930.

The 1930 census finds the family in Washington, District of Columbia and lists Frank Standford (36, building trades) and Vern Standford (31).

In 1942, Frank registered for the WWII draft in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia. He listed his date of birth as 11 Jul 1888.

Mamie was the daughter of James D. Beales and Laura Josephine Haislop.

The Alexandria, Virginia death record lists "Earl Francis Stanford" as the son of Frank Stanford and Mamie Laura Beales, indicated that they probably married in 1915. They were still married in 1919 when the Alexandria, Virginia City Directory listed "Mrs. Mamie L. Stanford" living in the city. But, since Frank Stanford is not listed, the couple were evidently separated by this time.

The 1920 census lists Mamie Stanford living with her mother in Alexandria, Virginia and Frank living with his parents in Washington, District of Columbia, confirming their separation. Finally, in 1921, the Alexandria, Virginia City Directory lists "Miss Mamie Stanford," indicated that she was single by then.

Based on the 1930 census, we know that Mamie married Thomas Earl Brashears in 1923 and the couple were living in Washington, District of Columbia in 1930. After Brahsears death, Mamie married Joseph Hunt.

This was Verne's second marriage. According to granddaughter Joyce Snellings, Verne was first married to a "Jimmy Jones" and they had one daughter, Dorothy. Jimmy went overseas during WWI while Verne was pregnant and decided when he got home he didn't want to be married. He left Verne and got a divorce.

Children of Ollie Francis "Frank" Stanford and Mamie Laura Beales:

- i. Earl Francis Stanford, born 5 Mar 1916, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia, died 3 Jun 1916, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia.
- ii. Ollie Francis Stanford, Jr., born 1917, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia, died 15 Mar 1917, in Alexandria, Alexandria, Virginia, buried in Bethel Cemetery, Alexandria, Virginia.

Children of Ollie Francis "Frank" Stanford and Verne Adele Brent:

- i. Dorothy Mary Jones Stanford, born 27 Nov 1914, in Washington, District of Columbia, died 24 Jun 1980, in Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania, Virginia. She married (1) Francis William Schoenbauer. Francis William Schoenbauer was born 17 Nov 1910, in Washington, District of Columbia, died 10 Dec 1961. They were divorced about 1952. She married (2) Paul Merryman Kenyon after 1952. Paul Merryman Kenyon was born 22 Aug 1910, in Oakton, Fairfax, Virginia, died 21 Mar 1984, in Oakton, Fairfax, Virginia.

Dorothy's birth father was Jimmy Jones. Her mother and birth father separated soon after WWI and she went by the name of "Stanford" when she was growing up. After her divorce from her first husband, she had her name legally changed to "Stanford." Her mother Verne wanted her to go back to her birth surname "Jones," but Dorothy refused...she said that never knew her biological father and didn't want to use his name.

Francis was the son of Frank J. Schoenbauer (1889-1966) and Virginia Elizabeth Lawrence (1892-1963).

Edward's birth record is provided in "Some Kimble County Births, 1874-1900" by Frederica Burty Wyatt.

Edward moved with his parents to Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona about 1881/1882.

A 1913 biography of his brother Rawghlie indicates that Edward had moved to California and was engaged in the lumber business there. But, by 12 Sep 1918, the family had moved back to Maricopa County, Arizona and Edward registered for the WWI draft there. At that time, he listed his occupation as "dairyman", which was his father's occupation.

In the 1920 census, we find the family living in Broadway, Maricopa, Arizona. The census record lists Edward A. Stanford (43), Maude Stanford (44), William E. Stanford (7), and Jackson Stanford (6), with both children being born in California.

The 1930 census lists the family living in Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona and includes Edward A. Stanford (53), Maud A. (54), William E. (17), and Jack M. (16).

Edward's SSDI provides his date and place of death.

Edward served as a Maricopa County, Arizona water commissioner for many years.

Maud's father was M.A. Kennon (b. NY) according to her death certificate.

Children of Edward Agee Stanford and Maud A. Kennon:

- 964      i.    William Edward Stanford, born 12 Jul 1912, in San Diego, California, died 20 Sep 1990, in Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona.
- 965      ii.   Jackson M. Stanford, born 22 Sep 1913, in California, died Apr 1977, in Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona.

26 Dec 1906. Ruth Butchee was born 7 Apr 1880, in Buffalo Gap, Taylor, Texas, died 15 Mar 1957, in Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona, buried in Greenwood Memory Lawn, Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona.

Rawghlie C. Stanford was born in Texas and brought by his parents to Phoenix as a child. He grew up on his father's farm near Phoenix and attended Creighton School. As a boy he learned the cowboy's skills, and became a bronc rider of note in Arizona rodeos.

Stanford enlisted in the U.S. Army near the end of the Spanish-American War in 1895, serving with the 34th U.S. Volunteers in the Philippines, attaining the rank of sergeant before being discharged in 1901.

He studied at the Tempe Normal School and Stanford University School of Law. He was admitted to the territorial bar at Tombstone, Cochise, Arizona in 1905 and began his law practice in there. In 1909, he moved his law practice to Phoenix, becoming a partner in the law firm Stanford, Walton, and Townsend (R.C. Stanford, T.P. Walton, and F.B. Townsend). The firm was located in Suite 415 of the National Bank of Arizona Building according to the 1912 Phoenix City Directory.

The following was published in 1913:

Rawghlie C Stanford, "Arizona, The Youngest State", pg 462

"Judge Rawghlie C. Stanford is one of Arizona's youngest citizens, his birth having occurred en route to this state from Texas in 1879, his parents being M.A. and M.J. (Gamble) Stanford. The father who was a cattle man, removed from Alabama to Texas, when a youth of thirteen, in the early 1860's and was reared upon the Texas frontier. In 1882 he left Texas and became a permanent resident of Arizona. He was the owner of a cattle ranch in this state and in 1889 removed to the Salt River Valley where he engaged in raising stock.

"Their family numbered but two sons, the elder being E.A. Stanford who is now a resident of San Diego, California where he is engaged in the lumber business.

"The younger son, Rawghlie C. Stanford, acquired his preliminary education in the country schools in Creighton district and then took up the study of law under Thomas Armstrong, Jr, an attorney of Phoenix. In 1905 he was admitted to the bar in Cochise County where he practiced for four years coming to Phoenix in 1909. He became a member of the firm of Stanford, Walton and Townsend, in which he continued until 1914. In that year he was elected superior judge of Maricopa County.

"In 1907 Mr. Stanford was married to Miss Ruth Butchee of Buffalo Gap, Texas and their family numbers three children: Rawghlie C. Jr., Margaret T. and Sharon."

The following short biography is published online by the Arizona State Library, Archives, and Public Records: "Rawghlie Clement Stanford was born August 2, 1878, in Texas. His family moved to Phoenix in 1881. In 1901, Stanford began his law studies under Fred Sutter, a judge in Bisbee, and Judge Armstrong of Phoenix. He was admitted to the Arizona bar in 1907. After two political defeats, Stanford was elected governor of Arizona in 1935. He served only one term which was wrought with criticism of favoritism. His administration concentrated on reclamation of Colorado River water and Depression relief. Stanford was elected to the Arizona Supreme Court and served two terms from 1943-1955. He died at his Phoenix home on December 15, 1963, at age 85."

Elected judge of Maricopa County Superior Court in 1914, Stanford served two terms (1915-1922). His most celebrated case was that of the election dispute between Gov. Hunt and Thomas E. Campbell in 1916-1917. Stanford ruled in favor of Campbell, but the Arizona Supreme Court awarded the election to Hunt.

On 12 Sep 1918, Rawghlie registered for the WWI draft, listing his occupation as "Judge of Superior Court"...needless to say, he was not drafted.

The 1920 census lists the family living in Phoenix, Maricopa, Arizona. This record includes Ralwliegh Stanford (40, judge, superior court), Ruth (39), Ralwliegh Jr. (12), Tennessee (9), Sharon (7), Mary (3-4/12), and Roscoe (2/12).

On 5 Jul 1927, Rawghlie made application for a Civil War Pension [Application No. 1585461, Casefile No. C2296332]. The application apparently was made on the basis his military service in the Philippines.

In 1930, the census finds the family living in Los Olivos, Maricopa, Arizona and lists Rawghlie C. Stanford (50, attorney, law firm), Ruth (48), Rawghlie C. (22), Margaret T. (19), Sharon B. (17), Mary R. (13), Roscoe A. (10), and Lois C. (6).

In 1936, Stanford was urged to seek the governorship on the Democratic ticket and was elected in November that year. During his term, he turned his attention to the restoration of Arizona's economy in the latter years of the Depression...a minimum wage law was enacted, unfair sales practices were outlawed, and the Federal Social Security Act was implemented.

Rawghlie soon found that he preferred the life of the judge and lawyer to that of the politician, and announced that he would not seek re-election (in 1938) as governor after his single term.

In 1943, Stanford was named to the Arizona Supreme Court where he replaced Alfred C. Lockwood on 4 Jan 1943 and served through 3 Jan 1955. He was Chief Justice from Feb 1945 to Dec 1948 and from Jan 1953 to Dec 1953.

Rawghlie Stanford was the state coordinator for the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign and served as a presidential elector. He was involved in real estate as well. Stanford homesteaded and developed large tracts of land, including a section north of the Arizona Canal and east of the Biltmore Hotel.

The following is a biography from the "Arizona Biographical Dictionary" by John S. Goff :

"Rawghlie Clement Stanford (2 Aug 1878-15 Dec 1963)

"Governor of Arizona, January 1937-January 1939, and justice of the state supreme court. A native of Buffalo Gap, Texas, when still a small boy he came with his parents to Phoenix. Educated in the public schools, what is now Arizona State University and Lamson business school, he volunteered for army service in 1899. For two years he served in the Philippines and was discharged as a sergeant. Returning home he worked as a rancher in California for a while before studying law in the office of practicing attorneys. Admitted to the bar in 1906 he lived for a time in Cochise County, but in 1909 came back to Phoenix. On December 26, 1906, he was married to Ruth Butchee (1880-1957), and they were the parents of seven children. From 1915 to 1923 Stanford was judge of the superior court in Maricopa County and in 1920 sought, but lost, the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Arizona.

"Active in party affairs in the late 1920's he challenged Governor Moeur in the primary of 1934 for the gubernatorial nomination. He then lost, but two years later won the primary and the general election. Not particularly happy with the office Stanford declined renomination in 1938. After serving as chairman of the State Council of Civilian Defense, 1941-1942, he was elected a justice of the state supreme court, taking office in January of 1943. Reelected in 1948, he served until his voluntary retirement in January 1955. As a justice he also served as chief justice under the constitutional rotation system then in effect.

"He died in Phoenix and was remembered as a kindly, humanitarian judge who possessed a common sense approach to the law. As a politician he often tried to please all sides in a controversy, which effort sometimes proved a result impossible to achieve."

Ruth was the daughter of James Avis Butchee (b. abt 1853 in Mississippi) and his wife Tennessee Minerva Gamble (b. abt. 1844 in Tennessee). Ruth's mother and Rawghlie's mother were evidently related since they share the same surname.

The 1880 census finds the Stanford and Butchee families living two houses away from one another (Rawghlie was 2 and Ruth was 1 month old when this census was taken) and the families must have remained in close contact for years afterwards.

In the records, his name spelled both "Jessie" and "Jesse." The first is more common.

On 5 Jun 1917, Jessie registered for the WWI draft in Castleberry, Conecuh, Alabama. This record confirms his date of birth and defines his place of birth. At the time, he was married, but had no children. He was working as a laborer in Brewton, Alabama. In this record, his first name is spelled "Jessa."

In 1920, the census lists Jessie E. (30, single, laborer, farm) in Bushy Creek, Conecuh, Alabama living with his parents. Obviously, he and Luna have separated by this time.

In 1930, the census lists the family living in Baldwin County, Alabama and includes Jessie Stanford (42, laborer), Clara (40), Hubard (16), Gredie (14), Jeffie (10), Jessie (8), Eugene (6), Ardell (5), Jessie Jr. (3), and Richard E. (9/12). [The first three children in this list appear to be children from Clara's first marriage since we know that Jessie and Clara did not marry until at least 1920.]

The 1940 census lists the family living in Baldwin County, Alabama. This record includes Jessy Stanford (51, widowed, laborer, farm), Jeff (21), Eugene (17), Ardell (16), Jessy Jr. (14), and Richard (12). In this record, Richard is listed as female. This record identifies that Jessie had been married to "Clara." [Note: The Ancestry.com transcription of this record erroneously lists "Jessy" as "Jerry."]

Luna was the daughter of Francis "Frank" M. Hammonds (1859-1932) and Louise Catherine Pugh (1861-1939).

After Luna and Jessie separated, and sometime before 1930, she married Henry Willis Smith (b. 11 Jan 1899, Americus, Georgia; d. 09 Apr 1977, Tuscaloosa, Alabama).

Evidently, Luna and Jessie had no children.

Clara was the daughter of William Salter (b. Monroe County, Alabama) and Katie Stringer (b. Covington County, Alabama).

The 1930 census lists three children born, between 1914 and 1918, all with the Stanford surname. However, these may have been Clara's children from an earlier marriage. No record of these children after 1930 (except for a possible reference to Jeff in the 1940 census) have yet been found, primarily because we have not identified the name of Clara's first husband.

Some researchers indicate that Joshua's full name may have been Noah Joshua Stanford.

While Mary Alice Stanford was helping her sister Nancy after the birth of Nancy's first baby, she had an affair with Nancy's husband Thomas Murphy and became pregnant with Joshua. The scandal and shame of this situation resulted in Obediah and Susan claiming Joshua as their son.

In 1900, Joshua and Alice are living with his grandfather and grandmother, Obediah and Susan Stanford, along with their first child Jesse, in Koenton, Washington, Alabama.

In 1910, the family is living in Koenton, Washington, Alabama and the census record includes Joshua Stanforth (31, farmer), Alice (33), Jessie (12), John W. (9), Willie (9), and Maggie (4).

Sometime after 1910 and before 1916, either Alice died or Joshua simply left, because he married Leona about 1914 and had a child with her.

Joshua registered for the WWI draft on 17 Sep 1918 and listed his birth date.

The 1920 census finds the family living in Precinct 10, Choctaw, Alabama and lists Josh Stanford (41, saw filer, mill), Leona (22), Jesse (22), Willie (18), West (18), Maggie (17), Minnie (9), and Ruby (4).

The 1940 census lists the family living in Butler, Choctaw, Alabama and includes Josh Stanford (61, farmer) and Leona N. (43). Living with them is Rubye E. Stanford (24). This record shows that Rubye is divorced and in 1935 was living in Montgomery, Montgomery, Alabama.

Alice was the daughter of Susan Darluky Harwell who married Obediah Stanford in 1893.

Her gravestone indicates her birth was in 1876.

Leona was the daughter of Joseph Archibald "Archie" Norton (b. 1868, Wayne County, Mississippi) and Mary Elizabeth Elliott (b. 1873).

Children of Joshua "Josh" Stanford and Alice Levert Harwell:

James Frantz Cater was born 19 Jul 1903, in Alabama, died 20 Jan 1968, in Mobile, Mobile, Alabama, buried in Malcolm Cemetery, Malcolm, Washington, Alabama.

James was the son of JamesBartonCater and Martha Frantz.

The 1930 census finds the couple living in Malcolm, Washington, Alabama and lists James F. Cater (27) and Maggie S. Cater (24). This record indicates that the couple have been married for 5 years.

- v.    Minnie Stanford, born 8 May 1910, in Choctaw County, Alabama, died 9 Jul 1993, in Malcolm, Washington, Alabama, buried in Malcolm Cemetery, Malcolm, Washington, Alabama. Charles Cary Powell was born 28 Sep 1901, in Alabama, died 10 Jan 1975, in Malcolm, Washington, Alabama, buried in Malcolm Cemetery, Malcolm, Washington, Alabama.

Charles' SSDI indicates that he was born in 1901, while his gravestone is engraved 1902.

Charles was the son of John C. Powell and his wife Lillian (18711908).

The 1930 census finds the family living in Choctaw County, Alabama, next door to Minnie's brother Wesley Stanford. This record lists Charley C. Powell (26, teamster, saw mill) and Minnie (19) and indicates that the couple have been married for 3 years.

Cecil Powell Grant was born about 1916, in Alabama, died 11 Jan 1949, in New Orleans, Orleans, Louisiana. She married (2) GNU Grice before 1959.

In Sep 1939, Rubye listed her name with SSA as "Rubye Stanford Grant." However, this date must be in error since 1940 census records for both Rubye and Cecil P. Grant show them as unmarried.

The 1940 census lists Rubye E. Stanford (24) living in Butler, Choctaw, Alabama with her parents Josh Stanford (61, farmer) and Leona N. (43). This record shows that Rubye is divorced and in 1935 was living in Montgomery, Montgomery, Alabama. Based on this record, it appears that Rubye married after 1930 and divorced before 1940. The identity of her husband is unknown.

City Directories for Meridian, Lauderdale, Mississippi in 1955-1959 list Rubye S. Grant as the widow of Cecil P. Grant. We know her children were living with her at this time since there is a record of Cecil Powell Grant, Jr. attending Meridian High School in 1960.

In Nov 1959, she listed her name with SSA as "Rubye Stanford Grice." But, the identity of this husband has not yet been made.

In 1996, she applied to the SSA for disability benefits under the name "Rubye S. Grant."

Cecil Powell Grant (24, manager, retail store) is listed by the census living with his parents Guy H. Grant and Corinne Powell in Livingston, Sumter, Alabama in 1940.

Cecil P. Grant's will was probated in Sumter County, Alabama on 23 Apr 1949. Since Cecil's father was ill, a substitute administrator (Ira D. Pruitt, a friend of Cecil's) was appointed. Rubye was not considered for this duty since, as stated in the petition, "...widow Ruby S. Grant, an adult, a non compos mentis, who is presently a patient at Bryce [Psychiatric] Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, Cecil Powell Grant, Jr., age 6 and Guy Stanford Grant, age 3, sons, who are now with their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Stanford, Butler, Alabama."

After his mother's death, Joseph moved to Arkansas to live with his Stanford grandparents. While there, he completed his studies in Veterinary Medicine before returning to Oklahoma before 1915.

The 1940 census lists the family living in Memphis, Shelby, Tennessee and lists John F. Stanford (24, diesel engineer), Charlotte F. (24), and J. Charles (1). This census shows that in 1935 John was living in Fayetteville, Washington, Arkansas and Charlotte was living in St. Louis, St. Louis, Missouri. Since their son was born in Missouri, the couple evidently met and married in St. Louis, moving to Memphis in 1938/1939.

Charlotte was the daughter of Charles V. and Pauline Kincaid. In 1920 and 1930, the Kincaid family was living in Washington County, Arkansas.

Jewel was the daughter of Ernest M. Hancock and Myrtle B. Nash.

This apparently was Jewel's third marriage. Prior to Nov 1936, Jewel married a Johnston. That marriage evidently did not last, since Jewel re-registered with the SSA as Jewel Ernestine Hancock in 1947. In Feb 1949, Jewel re-registered with the SSA as Jewel Ernestine Stanford.

In 1930, the census finds Roy W. Stanford (24, teacher, public school) living in Precinct 2, Cass, Texas with his wife, listed as Mrs. Roy W. Stanford (21, teacher, public school), born in Oklahoma. We learn Ruby's name from the birth certificate of their daughter Ruby Nell Stanford.

While there is not direct record, it does appear the Roy and Ruby separated sometime after 1932. In 1940, the census lists William R. Stanford (34, circulation manager, newspaper) with his two daughters Jo Nell (9) and Mary Agelea (8) living in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas. This record indicates that the family was living in Linden, Cass, Texas in 1935.

"Cooper was born May 18, 1923 in Linden, Texas, the son of William Theophilus and Mary Elizabeth Stanford. He was the twelfth of fourteen children. Although Cooper was raised on a farm, his parents set a high value on education. A combination of hard work and determination led Cooper to the University of Texas at Austin, followed by Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. After serving an internship and duty at sea with the Navy, he did a residency in Pediatrics in Memphis and began private practice in 1952.

"Dr. Cooper will be remembered for his professional manner, his white lab coat and the clown's horn he used to call his nurse to the examining room. He always had enough time to answer the questions of a new mother, address the concerns of an anxious adolescent, and calm the worries of a fretting grandmother. Cooper was the Head of Pediatrics at St. Francis' Hospital for over thirty years, physician for the Boy Scouts, and shared a practice with his nephew, Dr. Jim Stanford. Dr. Cooper retired at age 79 due to the onset of Alzheimer's disease.

Some researchers indicate that E.J. given name was Edgar. However, no documentation to support this conclusion has yet been found.

Allegany, Maryland.

In the 1920 census, this son is listed as Everett. In the 1930 census, he is listed as Earnest, which is incorrect.

In 1935, according to the Lubbock, Texas City Directory, E.J. Stanford and his wife Ja Etta were living in the city. His brother, Everett Stanford, listed as "entertainer," was living with them.

David enlisted in the U.S. Navy on 22 Sep 1943 in Dallas, Texas. Navy records show that he served as a ship's cook (rating SC3c) aboard the USS Bering Strait (AVP-53) from 11 Jul 1944 through 1 Nov 1945 in the Pacific Theater at Hawaii, Marshall Islands, Mariana Islands, and Okinawa. The AVP-53 was a Barneget-class seaplane tender launched on 15 Jan 1944 and removed from service on 1 Dec 1945.

David's marriage to Babe Ruth Gallimore may have been his second marriage. Family members report that he had previously married Ina/Ena LNU, but no record of a marriage or divorce has yet been found.

The following is Everett's obit published in "The Republican" newspaper in 1966:

"Radio Announcer Fatally Stricken

"David Everett Stanford, 53, known in this area and radio audience as "Hank the Cowhand," was dead on arrival at Grant County hospital in Petersburg, W. Va., early Sunday morning. Mr. Stanford and his western band were in Petersburg Saturday night to play for a dance. He was stricken shortly afterward while sitting in his automobile.

"A native of Mexia, Texas, he had resided at 983 East High Street in Oakland. He was announcer for radio station WMSG, at Oakland. Deceased was a son of Mrs. Nora Fife Stanford, Dallas, Tex., and the late James Stanford.

"Mr. Stanford began his radio career when he was 17 in Lubbock, Tex. He performed with the Grand Old Opry, Pee Wee King Band, Golden West Trio and entertained on the Camel Caravan with Eddy Arnold. He also had his own western band.

"Prior to moving to Oakland he was an announcer and entertainer on stations in Wichita Falls, Tex., Keyser and Fairmont, W. Va. His band played for square dances in the tri-state area.

"He was a member of The First Baptist Church, Seymour, Tex., and of Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion in Oakland, having served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

"Besides his mother he is survived by his wife, Ruth Gallimore Stanford; a son, James F. Stanford, at home; three sisters, Mrs. Juanita Rogers, Mrs. Bonnie Smith, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Freda Marchett, Dallas; four brothers, John and Price Stanford, Dallas; William Stanford, Wichita Falls; and E. J.

Stanford, Seymour.

"The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland. Funeral services were conducted there Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. E. H. Wilt and Rev. John Baba officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens with full military rites accorded by members of Post 71."

The following is a more complete biography written by fellow band member Dale Brooks and posted by the Rockabilly Hall of Fame website (www.rockabillyhall.com/HanktheCowhand1.html):

"Hank the Cowhand was born David E. Stanford in Mexia, [Limestone,] Texas October 9, 1911. He became an entertainer at a young age, working up the ladder with various bands, eventually working with such greats as Eddy Arnold, Ted Fiorita and other known bands of that era. Hank was an outstanding bass man, playing the non-amplified stand up 'doghouse' bass fiddle.

[Sometime after 1929 or 1930, Zeke Williams [Raymond Ezekiel Williams (1911-1982)] teamed up with David Everett Stanford on a radiostation at Chickasha, Oklahoma. Hank and Zeke worked together for 10-11 years. They had a band called the "Rambling Cowboys" and played on the Texas Quality Network. They were also under contract with the Brunswick Recording Company.]

"Like so many other men, Hank was drafted when World War II broke out and served several years in the navy as a cook on the big ships of the Pacific fleet.

"After the war, Hank and Zeke got together again, and the two of them migrated to Fairmont, West Virginia where they started the long popular 'Sagebrush Roundup' radio show on WMMN in Fairmont. This station covered the major portion of four states; West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, plus eastern Ohio.

"Eventually some of those who starred on Sagebrush Roundup went on to become recording stars, some even would up on the Opry: Grandpa Jones, Little Jimmy Dickens and others.

"Zeke Williams left Fairmont and returned to Texas, but Hank stayed on and ran the Sagebrush roundup for years. In 1955 Hank disbanded the show and moved to WKYR in Keyser, West Virginia as a deejay and entertainer. In 1956, he talked his former band member Dale Brooks into joining him there, and got Dale his first job as a deejay. He also got Dusty Shaver from the Sagebrush Roundup to move to Keyser, and Joe Barker, a 17 year veteran of the WWVA Wheeling Jamboree to come too. The four worked together and became quite popular this four state area too.

"During those years Hank made a lot of records on the Cozy label, among them rockabilly hits like 'Popcorn Boogie,' 'Fan It,' 'She's A Hum-Dum Dinger,' and many others.

"Hank had a special talent on the bass fiddle that was developed in Texas in the Bob Wills band and seldom copied simply because so few bass players could do it. It is called the 'triple slap' on a bass. Most good bass men can 'double slap' a bass, but hardly anyone could do the triple slap. Hank was one of them, the bass player in the Sons of the Pioneers was another. In those days country bands did not use a drummer, so the triple and double slapping of the bass was an important part of having a really good rhythm sound. On Hank's 'Hum Dum Dinger' record, he takes a break on bass fiddle doing his triple slap.

"Hank had a varied career in music. He was bass man in the staff band on the Camel Caravan, a country music road show, sponsored by the cigarette people, that toured the country in the late 1940s and 1950s. He was a deejay on stations in several states, Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, Maryland, West Virginia and others.

"He eventually settled down for good at WMSG in Oakland, Md., working for his old friend and previous employer from his days at WKYR in Keyser, Tom Butscher.

"Hank, his wife Ruth and son Jimmy lived in Oakland as Hank became the most popular radio personality ever in that entire area. The population there was heavily Amish people. Though their lifestyle was not supposed to include modern things like listening to a radio, he was immensely popular with them too.

"Hank was an exceptionally good showman who could, in the language of entertainers, "hold a crowd in his hand". When he walked on stage, the crowd knew here was somebody special. He drew a crowd everywhere he performed, and they never seemed to tire of going to his shows. The same was true of his radio audience..there was a tremendous loyalty to Hank that never waned.

"In the fall of 1986 Hank was the featured act at the Grant County Fair in Petersburg, West Virginia. The show was a 'bang-up success'. When it was over and the autographs signed and the music equipment packed for the trip back to Oakland, the band stopped to eat before leaving town. They went into a restaurant and sat down to order. The rest of the boys gave the waitress their orders, but when she asked Hank for his order, he told the band, "You fellows take your time and enjoy your dinner. I'm not feeling much like eating...I'll wait in the car for you. Take your time...I'll be OK." A few minutes later when the food was being served, one of the guys in the band said, "I'm gonna check on Hank before I eat...be right back." He left the restaurant and walked to their parked car. Hank had worked his last show. He died just minutes after walking off the stage!

"When news of his death aired next morning on WMSG radio, it seemed the whole area went into mourning. When he was laid out at the funeral home, lines blocks long formed to pay their last respects and lasted all day and into the late evening hours daily.

"It became apparent the funeral home could not accommodate the crowd wanting to attend his funeral. People from all walks of life came, including hundreds of the Amish in their black and grey clothing. It was obvious even the largest building in town, the national guard armory, would not accommodate such a host of mourners.

"Tom Butscher decided to do something then almost unheard of. On behalf of the family, Tom announced on the radio the funeral services would have to be restricted to invitation only, and WMSG would broadcast the funeral on the radio so his fans could feel a part of it.

"People were asked to not send flowers but rather make a donation to a memorial fund for Hank's family. Even so, Hank's many friends from out of town and out of state, including many nationally known country music stars, sent flowers. A large number of friends from the entertainment world attended the funeral, and even with restricted seating, it was still the largest funeral ever held in Oakland.

"Hank the Cowhand's singing is still heard round the world. His original records on Cozy bring a premium price on the collectors market, and some of his songs have been re-released on new records by Bishop and White Label records here in the 21st century. He may be gone, but he is not forgotten."

The book Mountain Jamboree: County Music in West Virginia (Ivan M. Tribe, University of Kentucky Press, 2015) provides the following information on David's career in West Virginia:

"A pair of acts from midwest came to WMMN in 1946...[including] Zeke Williams and his Ramblin' Cowboys, Jo Ann [Burkett] Williams [Zeke's wife], who sang duets with her husband, Jolly Joe Parish, and David Stanford, generally known as Hank the Cowboy. The entire Williams band did not remain long at WMMN, but Stanford became a durable figure and in a sense Fairmont's last country radio star.

"After Zeke left, Stanford lingered and formed a band called the Foggy Mountain Boys.... As other radio performers drifted away from WMMN and the Saturday night shows were ended after October 2, 1948, Hank took the name Sagebrush Roundup for his band and maintained live radio artistry into 1955. In that year, he went to WKYR Keyser [West Virginia], in Oklahoma, or at WMSG Oakland, Maryland until his death.... He continued to play personal appearances for the rest of his life...."

David's grave marker shows his year of birth as 1911, but SSDI, etc. lists it as 1912. This grave marker includes David E. and B. Ruth Stanford and includes the name "Hank the Cowboy."

In 1940, the census finds the Gallimore family living in Seymour, Baylor, Texas and lists her name as Baby Ruth Gallimore (9). SSA records show her name as "Babe Ruth" and her SSDI lists her name as Babe R. Roy. Evidently, her parents named her after either the famous baseball player Babe Ruth or the candy bar named for him.

Ruth was the daughter of Thomas L. Gallimore and Mary B. Hooper.

SSA records indicate that Ruth apparently remarried twice after David Stanford's death, first to GNU Roy sometime before 20 Jan 1975 and then to GNU Broadwater before 22 Jul 1987. Public records indicate that Ruth lived in Allegany County, Maryland during this period.

On 12 Sep 1918, James registered for the WWI draft in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, listing J.C. Stanford as his nearest living relative. At this time, he was single and working as a clerk for Swift & Co. U.S. Army records show that he served from 24 Oct 1918 until 11 Dec 1918.

The 1930 census finds the family living in Demopolis, Marengo, Alabama, where Leslie is a bookkeeper for a creamery. The record includes Leslie (31), Christine H. (26), Lillian A. (4), James L. (1-6/12), Daley H. (5/12), and Christine's mother, Lilla Heath (59).

The 1940 census lists James Lesley (42, divorced) living in Biloxi, Harrison, Mississippi at the Veterans Administration Facility. His burial marker indicates that he was a Private in the U.S. Army during WWI.

Christine was the daughter of Thomas A. Heath (1869-1928) and Lilla Hardy (1870-1939). Both are buried at Riverside Cemetery, Marengo County, Alabama.

- ii. Lillian A. Stanford, born 6 Dec 1925, in Demopolis, Marengo, Alabama, died 23 Aug 2014, in Pensacola, Escambia, Florida, buried in Bayview Memorial Park, Pensacola, Escambia, Florida. She married James Bryan Sykes about 1956, in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama. James Bryan Sykes was born 9 Jan 1931, in Alabama, died 5 Sep 2012, in Pensacola, Escambia, Florida, buried in Bayview

Memorial Park, Pensacola, Escambia, Florida.

Lillian grew up in Demopolis, Alabama, graduating from high school there. She then attended Auburn University. After a brief career with Garlock in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama, she became a housewife.

James had a long career in the fluid sealing industry. After working for Garlock in Birmingham, he joined Sepco Corporation where he eventually served as president of the company's international division.

He developed a passion for the Florida Gulf Coast when he opened a branch office of Sepco in Pensacola in 1967. Several years after returning to Birmingham, he had the opportunity to make Pensacola his home. He bought the branch he had started, and his new company, SSC, became a leading distributor of industrial products in the southeastern United States. Mr. Sykes was widely respected among his colleagues, customers and employees, and he earned a reputation for delivering on his promises in a fair, honest and ethical manner. Mr. Sykes was a graduate of Shades Cahaba High School in Birmingham, and he attended Auburn University.

- 1096     i. James Joseph Stanford, born 24 Oct 1954, in Wiggins, Stone, Mississippi, died 20 Feb 2013, in Richmond, Fort Bend, Texas.

On 12 Sep 1918, Burrell Jackson Stanford registered for the WWI draft in Talladega County, Alabama. He listed his occupation as salesman for M.R. Jouier and his nearest living relative as J.C. Stanford, Talladega, Alabama.

From the dates and places of birth of his children, it appears that Burrell and Eliza Burttram married about 1924 and lived in Alabama for a short while. The 1925 City Directory for Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama lists Burrell J. Stanford and his wife Eliza living at 2324 16th Avenue in the city.

The family was living in Mississippi when their second child, Earnest Ray Stanford, was born.

By 1930, the couple had separated (divorced?) and Eliza (listed in the census as a widow) and the children were living with her brother Albert Conway Burttram in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama. However, the 1931 City Directory for Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama lists Burrell J. Stanford and his wife Eliza living at 509 16th Avenue in the city.

The 1940 census lists Burrell Stanford as a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama. This record indicates that he was a prisoner at that same facility in 1935. (This is ironic because his father was on the Talladega police force and was chief of police there when he died.)

Eliza was the daughter of Albert Adam Burttram (1871-1964) and Mertie Tallulah "Lula" Millican (1879-1924).

From the dates and places of birth of her children, it appears that Eliza Burttram and Burrell Jackson Stanford married about 1924 and lived in Alabama, where their first child Burrell Jackson Stanford, Jr. was born, for a short while. They were living in Mississippi when their second child, Earnest Ray Stanford, was born.

Evidently, by 1930, the couple had separated (divorced?) and Eliza and the children were living with her brother Albert Conway Burttram in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama. This 1930 census record includes Eliza Stanford (27, widow), Burl Stanford (5), and Earnest R. Stanford (3).

Children of Burrell Jackson Stanford and Mary Eliza Burttram:

- 1097      i.    Burrell Jackson Stanford, Jr., born 13 Mar 1925, in Alabama, died 19 Jan 2014, in Foley, Baldwin, Alabama.
- 1098      ii.   Earnest Ray "Earnie" Stanford, born 6 Apr 1927, in Summerland, Smith, Mississippi, died 23 Nov 2014, in Fairhope, Baldwin, Alabama.

In 1930, the census finds the couple living in Demopolis, Marengo, Alabama and lists Schoffer Stanford (24, weigher, warehouse) and Mary H. Stanford (19).

Children of Shaffuer Copeland Stanford and Mary Harper:

- i.    Shaffuer Copeland Stanford, Jr.

Baptist Church Cemetery, Boaz, Marshall, Alabama. She married GNU Ingleheart. They were divorced.

In the 1930 and 1940 census records, Clara is living with her parents in Albertville, Marshall, Alabama with her two children, William Ray Ingleheart and Mildred Ruth Ingleheart.

Children of Clara Lee Stanford and GNU Ingleheart:

- i. Jack Stanford, born 27 Apr 1926, in Alabama, died 28 Jun 1928, buried in Beulah Baptist Church Cemetery, Boaz, Marshall, Alabama.

The 1930 census finds the family living in Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama and lists Carl Stanford (26, truck driver, creamery), Martha (28), Martha E. (3), and Sara K. (2).

In 1940, the census lists the family living in Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama and includes James C. Stanford (35, bread salesman, wholesale baking co.), Martha (37), Elizabeth (13), Catherine (12), Jeanne (9), and James T. (5).

Carl's SSDI record lists his date of birth as 11 May 1902. But, that does not match either the 1930 or 1940 census record information. His brother Edwin was born in Nov 1902. This data makes it more reasonable to assume he was actually born on 11 May 1904.

Martha was the daughter of Benjamin R "Dock" Townley (1868) and Margaret Lucinda "Lou" Evans (1865-1937).

Children of James Carl Stanford and Martha Lee Townley:

- i. Martha Elizabeth Stanford, born about 1927, in Alabama.
- ii. Sara Katherine Stanford, born about 1928, in Alabama.
- iii. Jeanne Stanford, born about 1931, in Alabama.
- iv. James Townley Stanford, born 2 Jul 1934, in Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama, died 28 May 1954, in Rhode Island, buried in Crestwood Memorial Cemetery, East Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama. He married Lou Ella Moore. Lou Ella Moore was born 25 Apr 1936, in Alabama, died 1 Mar 2005, in Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama, buried in Crestwood Memorial Cemetery, East Gadsden, Etowah, Alabama.

James was a Private First Class in the United States Marine Corps (enlisted on 21 Feb 1953) and a crew member of the aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Bennington (CVA-20), cruising in Narragansett Bay, Rhode Island. On May 26, 1954, a launching catapult exploded killing him and 101 fellow crewmen.

James Stanford was awarded the National Defense Service Medal.

Lou was the daughter of Aaron Ephren Moore (1899 - 1977) and Bertha Guy (1905 - 1999).

After James' death, Lou remarried to Daniel Randolph Phillips (1935 - 1998).

In 1930, the census finds the family living in Precinct 2, Bell, Texas and lists Walter J. Stanford (26, farmer), Lelia I. (20), Hulon W. (3-8/12), and Barbera R. (10/12).

The Texas Birth Index for Walter Rogers Stanford lists Irene's name as Lela Katie White.

On 5 Jun 1917, William registered for the WWI draft in Montague County, Texas. At the time, he was single and working as a farm laborer.

Evidently, William and Daisy separated after 1924 and both remarried before 1930.

In 1930, William S. Stanford (34) is living next door to his parents in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. He is listed as "disabled veteran" and Iva Mae Stanford (22) is listed as "wife".

In 1940, the census lists William S. Stanford (44) and Iva M. Stanford (32) living in Kerrville, Kerr, Texas. No employment is recorded for either.

William registered in 1942 for the WWII draft. In this record, his middle name is incorrectly listed as "Simon." He listed his place of birth as Nocona, Texas.

At the time of his death, William was living in Kerrville, Kerr, Texas.

Daisy was the daughter of Lorenzo J. Parr (1853-1924) and Nancy Ellen Hughes (1856-1947).

Stanford (7) and Cecil Stanford (5) are living with the family, but are erroneously listed with the Perkins surname.

In 1940, Daisy L. Perkins (40, widow, seamstress) is found living in Wichita Falls, Wichita, Texas, along with her children Ruth Stanford (16) and Cecil James Stanford (15). Her mother, Nancy Ellen Parr (84) is living the family.

Freddie married Margaret Ellen Riley in 1967, so either Ruth died or the couple divorced before that date.

Ruth and Freddie had one daughter.

- 1107 iii. Cecil James Stanford, born 4 Nov 1924, in Montague County, Texas, died 21 Feb 1965, in Wichita Falls, Wichita, Texas.

On 5 Jun 1918, Edgar registered for the WWI draft in Austin County, Texas. From this record, we learn the date and place of his birth.

In 1930, the census finds the family living in Bellevue, Clay, Texas and lists R. Lee Stanford (35, minister, Methodist church), Flora (33), Mana L. (3), and Dorothy Sue (2).

The 1940 census lists the family in Hale Center, Hale, Texas and includes E. Lee Stanford (42, minister), Flora (37), Arualee (14), Dorothy Sue (12), Jesse Edgar (8), and Paul Martin (5).

Edgar registered for the WWII draft in Roberts County, Texas about 1942. At the time he and Flora were living in Miami, Roberts, Texas and the record shows that he was pastor of the Methodist Church. This record confirms his date and place of birth.

Edgar was a Methodist minister and was active in the ministry for 38 years in towns throughout Texas before retiring in 1962 to Dimmitt, Castro, Texas.

Flora attended Kidd Key college in Sherman, Texas for two years prior to marrying.

Children of Edgar Lee Stanford and Flora Ophelia Shelley:

He married Alta Belle Hudson about 1925, in Texas. Alta Belle Hudson was born 12 Sep 1908, in Texas, died 30 Apr 2001, in Wichita Falls, Wichita, Texas, buried in Archer City Cemetery, Archer, Archer, Texas.

In the 1920 census, Leonard Stanford (21) was living with his parents in Archer, Archer, Texas.

The 1930 census lists the family living in Olney, Young, Texas and includes Leonard W. Stanford (30, laborer, oil fields), Alta B. (21), and Dorwin L. (1). According to this record, Leonard and Alta had been married about 5 years.

The family moved to Wichita Falls, Wichita, Texas before 1935 and the 1940 census finds them living there. This record includes Leonard Stanford (42, promoter, oil leases), Alta Bell (31), Darwin (11), Mary Tie (9), and June Flay (4).

Alta was the daughter of Gid Jolly Hudson (1877|1943) and Mary Ellen Jones (1884|1958).

Children of Leonard William Stanford and Alta Belle Hudson:

- i. Leonard William Stanford, Jr., born 27 Aug 1926, in Hale County, Texas, died before 1940, in Texas.

Leonard William Stanford, Jr. does not appear in the 1940 census and it appears he died before then.

He married (1) Nellie Catherine "Nell" Dickey about 1927, in Texas. Nellie Catherine "Nell" Dickey was born 22 Apr 1902, in Texas, died 12 Nov 1993, in Archer, Archer, Texas, buried in Archer City Cemetery, Archer, Archer, Texas. He married (2) Sarah Pearl LNU 5 Jun 1941, in Las Vega, Clark, Nevada. Sarah Pearl LNU was born about 1904, died 21 Jan 2004, buried in Miami Cemetery, Miami, Roberts, Texas.

In various records, Otto's middle name is spelled "Waid" and "Wade". He signed his name as "Waid" in his 1918 draft registration, but most records and his gravestone show "Wade."

On 12 Sep 1918, Otto registered for the WWI draft in Archer County, Texas. He listed his occupation as farmer and stated that he was responsible for the support of his mother.

In 1930, the census finds the family living in Precinct 1, Archer, Texas and lists O.W. Stanford (32, no employment listed), Nell (28), Dickey W. (2-6/12), and Edwin T. (6/12).

Evidently Nell and O.W. divorced in the 1930s since the 1940 census lists O.W. Stanford (39, gov't hunter, trapping) in Pecos, San Miguel, New Mexico. His mother, Effie L. Stanford (60, widow), is living with her.

O.W. remarried to Sarah Pearl LNU in 1941. The children listed here may not be all his, undoubtedly Sarah Pearl was previously married and some of these children were hers by her previous marriage.

The following is O.W.'s obit:

"Services for Otto Wade Stanford of Miami, a real estate broker, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church in Miami with the Rev. Carl Hudson, pastor, officiating.

"Mr. Stanford, born Sept. 2, 1900 in Nocoma, died unexpectedly at 7.20 p.m. Wednesday in his home.

"He had moved to Miami from Springfield, Colo. and had been in the cattle and real estate business for 19 years.

"Survivors are his wife, Pearl, of the home; three daughters, Mrs. J. H. Snyder of Canadian, Mrs. M. J. Coffee of Higgins, Mrs. Jack Phillips of Gravette, Ark.; two sons, Paul of Pampa, Charles, stationed with the USAF in Belton, Mo.; two brothers, the Rev. E. Lee Stanford of Dimmitt, Leonard of Wichita Falls; and 15 grandchildren."

Nell was the daughter of G.G. Dickey and his wife Fannie.

Evidently Nell and Otto divorced in the 1930s since the 1940 census lists Nell Brewer (38), married to Buford Brewer (40, laborer, oil) and living in Archer, Archer, Texas with her two children Dickey W.

Stanford (12), and Edwin Stanford (10). [Nell's new husband was Buford Lewis "Boots" Brewer (1899-1987).]

At the time of her death, Sarah was living Higgins, Texas.

In 1917, Harold Stanford is listed in the Lawton, Oklahoma City Directory as a student at Cameron State College.

No 1930 census record for Harold A. Stanford has yet been found, but he appears to have been in California by about 1930. No 1940 census record has yet been found, only marriage records.

A marriage record from Summit County, Ohio, dated 12 December 1941 [5 days after Pearl Harbor] indicates that his residence is Los Angeles, California and his occupation is listed "U.S. Army." Evidently, he was stationed at Akron, Summit, Ohio, but since no military record can be found, he may have been a civilian employ.

This record confirms the names of his parents and provides the name of his place of birth. However, this marriage record was never completed...no "Statement of Female" is provided and the record was marked through with a large X. [We know that Harold did marry Sheba Hope Park, who was from Ohio, in Brooke County, West Virginia in 1942, so this may simply been his "first pass" at that marriage, perhaps aborted in Ohio because of Sheba's age (16).]

Harold was back in Los Angeles by about 1944, without the wife from West Virginia. She evidently divorced him, since she remarried in Summit County, Ohio on 2 Dec 1945.

Evidently, Harold and Sylvia Jamar Stanford remarried about 1944, as indicated by the birth records of there two younger children. He and Sylvia are buried together in Riverside, Riverside, California.

In both 1952 and 1955, Harold/Harrel A. Stanford and his wife Sylvia J. Stanford are listed in the Riverside, California, City Directory. In 1952, Harold worked in a sewing machine shop and, in 1955, was a mechanic working for an imported car dealership.

Harold's California Death Certificate [CDC] and his SSDI listing both list his name as Harrel A. Stanford. His CDC lists his place of birth as Arkansas and his mother's maiden name as Addington. His CDC lists his date of bith as 2 Dec 1901, while, his SSDI lists his date of birth as 2 Dec 1900. Harold's grave marker presents his date of birth as 2 Dec 1900 and his first name as "Harrel."

Severianna was the daughter of Fermin Jamar (18671934) and his wife Maria Angela (18811962), both of whom were born in Spain.

In 1940, the census lists Silvia Stanford (31, saleslady) and her two children, Leland Stanford (6) and Harold Stanford (4), living with her mother Maria Jamar (60) in Inglewood, Los Angeles, California. This record shows that Sylvia is divorced. Based on the ages of her sons, it appears Sylvia and Harold married about 1933 and divorced between 1936 and 1940. Evidently, they remarried about 1944.

Sheba was the daughter of John Wesley Park and Arlie Frances Sanks.

The 1940 census finds Sheba H. Park (15) living with her parents in New Concord, Muskingum, Ohio.

The marriage between Sheba and Harold Alonzo Stanford ended prior to 1945 since Sheba married Kenneth E. Carter in Summit County, Ohio on 2 Dec 1945. That marriage ended and she married Leland Martin Kimerer on 23 Jan 1965 in Summit County, Ohio. Public records from the early 2000s indicate that Sheba was living in Akron, Summit, Ohio.

Children of Harold Alonzo Stanford and Severianna Julia "Sylvia" Jamar:

- i. Leland Fermin Stanford, born 23 Apr 1933, in Los Angeles County, California. He married Carol M. LNU.

Leland's middle name is Sylvia's father's name.

- Current (2013) public records indicate that Leland and Carol Stanford live in Upland, California.
- 1113      ii. Harold Alonzo Stanford, Jr., born 19 Mar 1936, in Los Angeles County, California.
- iii. Barbara Maria Stanford, born 2 Jul 1945, in San Bernardino County, California. She married Michael T. Shelton 30 Jul 1966, in Riverside County, California. Michael T. Shelton was born about 1945, in California.
- Barbara's middle name is Sylvia's mother's name.
- iv. Dennis John Stanford, born 9 Jun 1953, in San Bernardino County, California. He married Michelle M. Wolff 9 Oct 1976, in San Bernardino County, California. Michelle M. Wolff was born about 1957, in California.

He married Melba Hagar LNU about 1926, in Oklahoma. Melba Hagar LNU was born 18 Aug 1909, in Oklahoma, died 7 Jul 1971, in Salem, Marion, Illinois, buried 1971.

The 1926 Lawton City Directory lists Wm. T. Stanford, baker, living with his mother in Lawton, Comanche, Oklahoma.

The 1930 census finds the family living in Wolf, Seminole, Oklahoma and lists William T. Stanford (27, stillman, gasoline plant), Melba (20), Wayne T. (3-2/12), and Oscar E. (1-2/12).

In 1940, the census lists the family living in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Oklahoma. The record includes Wm. T. Stanford (36, salesman, paper rewinding), Melba (30), Wayne (13), and Oscar E. (11). This census record indicates that the family was living in Tulsa, Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1935.

Sometime after WWII, the family moved to Salem, Marion, Illinois. In 1965, Butch bought the assets of the Bettendorf Company of Bettendorf, Iowa and formed Bettendorf Stanford, Inc. in Salem. This company manufactures bread slicers and other commercial baking equipment.

Children of William Thomas Vernon "Dutch" Stanford and Melba Hagar LNU:

- 1114      i. Wayne Thomas Stanford, born 14 Feb 1927, in Oklahoma, died 22 Jun 2009, in Salem, Marion, Illinois.
- ii. Oscar Earl "Bud" Stanford, born 18 Feb 1929, in Oklahoma, died Oct 1978, in Salem, Marion, Illinois, buried 1978.

Evidently, Oscar never married.

676. Ewell Otis<sup>8</sup> Stanford, Jr. (Ewell Otis<sup>7</sup>, Jabez David "J.B."<sup>6</sup>, Samuel<sup>5</sup>, David "Deacon David"<sup>4</sup>, William<sup>3</sup>, Joseph<sup>2</sup>, Joseph<sup>1</sup>), born 9 Feb 1906, in Georgia, died 24 Mar 1993, in Seffner, Hillsborough, Florida. He married Jean Lindley Anderson 1939, in Hillsborough County, Florida. Jean Lindley Anderson was born 9 Mar 1914, in Florida, died 7 Nov 1977, in Plant City, Hillsborough, Florida.

The 1945 Florida State Census lists the family living in Precinct No. 6, Hillsborough, Florida and includes Ewell O. Stanford Jr. (39, pilot), Jean (31), John P. (4), and W.E. (0).

Children of Ewell Otis Stanford, Jr. and Jean Lindley Anderson:

Alan Griffith<sup>9</sup> Stanford, Jr. (Alan Griffith<sup>8</sup>, William Wallace<sup>7</sup>, Thomas Harwood<sup>6</sup>, John<sup>5</sup>, Thomas<sup>4</sup>, Thomas<sup>3</sup>, Joseph<sup>2</sup>, Joseph<sup>1</sup>), born 27 Jan 1925, in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia, died 6 Sep 2006, in Mount Pleasant, Charleston, South Carolina, buried in Mount Pleasant Memorial Gardens, Mount Pleasant, Charleston, South Carolina. Cause of death: lung cancer. He married (2) Carol Adams after 1987.

The following is the obit for Alan Griffith Stanford, Jr. published in the Charleston "Post & Courier" on 8 Sep 2006, with corrections and additions noted in brackets:

"Stanford was born January 27, 1925 in Atlanta, Georgia, son of the late Alan Griffith Stanford and Lydia Board Stanford. An avid sailor and boat builder, Stanford was one of the last great southern gentlemen. He graduated from Boys High in Atlanta, Ga., attended Clemson University and then graduated from the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point [Class of 1945] with a degree in Marine Engineering. After serving as a Naval Reserve Lieutenant [JG] in the Merchant Marines during World War II, he graduated from Emory University with a degree in Business Administration. He was retired from the Charleston Naval Shipyard and held the designation of Professional Engineer.

"He was an active member of Grace Episcopal Church where he served as an usher, worked in the tearoom, was a leader of Lectionary Sunday School class and spent time with the St. Barnabas group. For a number of years he was a favorite substitute teacher at Wando High School. He loved ballroom dancing and travel.

"A wonderful husband and father, he was always involved in his daughters' lives. Stanford is survived by his wife, Carol Adams Stanford of Mount Pleasant, SC, three daughters, Annette Broomfield and her husband, Jeff, of Duluth, GA, Patricia Guerry and her husband, Gill, of Mount Pleasant, SC and Sherry Rest and her husband, Cassius, of Mount Pleasant, SC, grandchildren, Alex and Patti Broomfield of Duluth, GA, Maria and William Guerry of Mount Pleasant, SC and David and Jennifer Rest of Mount Pleasant, SC. He is also survived by a step-daughter, Eleanor Hollington and her husband, Beo, of Mount Pleasant, SC, a step-son, Stuart Jackson of Baltimore, MD and a step-grandaughter, Eliana Hollington of Mount Pleasant, SC. His first wife Patricia Mullen Stanford of Atlanta, GA, preceded him in death."

What is not included in this obit are the facts that in 1971 Alan Stanford assumed the position of County Manager for St. Johns County, Florida and, in 1974 in St. Augustine, he was charged with the murder of his next door neighbor Athalia Ponsell Lindsley and was then tried, but quickly acquitted.

According to reports, Stanford complained on numerous occasions about Ponsell's dogs...6 or more of them...barking and attacking people walking by. Ponsell, in revenge, started a campaign to get Stanford fired from his county position, claiming that he was not registered as a professional engineer in Florida and was not entitled to function as a "County Engineer".

When Ponsell was killed, circumstantial evidence pointed to Stanford. But, lack of hard evidence and the poor handling of the crime scene by the St. Augustine police, resulted in the jury returning a "not guilty" verdict after just 2 hours of deliberation.

'Obnoxious' Victim Had No Shortage Of Possible Killers, City's Last Major Unsolved Murder Revolves Around High Society, Gossip and Intrigue, a recap of the murder and its aftermath, written by Peter Guinta, was published in the "St. Augustine Record" on 30 Jan 2007 (http://staugustine.com/stories/013007/news\_4368775.shtml) and makes very interesting reading! A book entitled "Bloody Sunset in St. Augustine" by Nancy Powell and Jim Mast was published in 1998. While billed as a "true story," the book reads like a novel and takes significant liberties with the truth.

Before coming to St. Augustine, Alan worked for Fairchild Electronics.

Leaving St. Augustine soon after trial, Alan moved to Miami, Dade, Florida, where he worked for a biological testing firm. From Miami, the family moved to South Carolina and Alan went to work as a naval engineer at the Charleston Naval Shipyard.

Some researchers incorrectly state that Leland's middle name was "Garland."

In 1910, the census finds the family living in Clayton, Fisher, Texas and lists Lelon G. Stanford (25, farmer), Missorin J. (28), Estell (3), and Vera (6/12).

On 12 Sep 1918, Leland registered for the WWI draft in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. At the time, was married (and listed his wife as Jennie Stanford) and working as a night watchman at the Swift & Co. packing plant in Fort Worth.

The 1920 census lists the family living in Fort Worth Ward 11, Tarrant, Texas and includes Leland G. Stanford (35, watchman, packing house), Missouri J. (38), Mary E. (13), Mellisa J. (9), Ruby F. (7), Bonniliu (5), Elwyn J. (3).

In 1930, the census finds the family in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas and lists Gilbert Stanford (45, watchman, packing house), Missouri J. (48), Jessie (19), Ruby V. (17), Bonnie L. (15), and Elwyn J. The 1940 census lists the family living in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. This record includes Gilbert Stanford (55, laborer, road construction) and Jennie (62). Living with them are grandchildren Bobbie L. Butler (9), Martha Kidwell (7), Ilene Kidwell (5), and Robert W. Kidwell (2).

Leland registered for the WWII draft in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. From this record, we learn his place of birth.

Jennie was the daughter of Joel Yantis Driver (1845-1911) and Malisa J. Stikes (1857-1919).

Children of Leland Gilbert Stanford and Missouri Jane "Jennie" Driver:

- i. Mary Estelle Stanford, born 4 Nov 1906, in Texas, died 28 Jun 2002, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas, buried in Laurel Land Memorial Park, Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. She married Carl Elijah Rucker 29 Apr 1929, in Tarrant County, Texas. Carl Elijah Rucker was born 7 May 1896, in Mississippi, died 7 Jun 1977, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas, buried in Laurel Land Memorial Park, Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas.
- ii. Vera Stanford, born about 1909, in Texas, died before 1920, in Texas.

Vera does not appear in the 1920 census and is assumed to have died before that date.

- iii. Mallisa Jessie "Jack" Stanford, born 29 May 1910, in Sweetwater, Nolan, Texas, died 29 Jun 2009, in Edmond, Oklahoma, Oklahoma, buried in Resurrection Memorial Cemetery, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Oklahoma. She married Olan Lee Davenport after Mar 1937. Olan Lee Davenport was born 23 May 1904, in Wayne, McClain, Oklahoma, died 18 Aug 1977, in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Oklahoma, buried in Resurrection Memorial Cemetery, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Oklahoma.

According to her obit, she came to Oklahoma City at the age of 16 to work for Amour Foods, where she met her husband, Olan, and they married in 1937.

Olan was the son of Samuel E. Davenport (1873-1957) and Addie May Bennett (1874-1951).

Olan previously married to Maude Valentine Gilstrap on 15 June 1924, in McClain County, Oklahoma,...the couple divorced on 3 Mar 1937 in Oklahoma County, Oklahoma, Oklahoma.

- iv. Ruby Verena Stanford, born 3 Jun 1912, in Texas, died 1 Apr 2001, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. She married James Franklin Kidwell. James Franklin Kidwell was born 14 Mar 1912, in Texas, died 12 Mar 1982, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas.

James was the son of William Thomas Kidwell (b. 1873).

- v. Bonnilyn Stanford, born about 1915, in Fisher County, Texas, died before 2009, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. She married (1) J. W. Butler about 1930, in Tarrant County, Texas. J. W. Butler was born in Quinlan, Hunt, Texas. They were divorced before 1937, in Tarrant County, Texas. She married (2) GNU Millard before 1955, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas.

There is a Texas birth certificate for a female child by Bonniluie Stanford and J.W. Butler in March 1931 in Tarrant County, Texas. From this record we learn J.W.'s date and place of birth. And, since the child's birth is indicated as "legitimate," we know that J.W. and Bonniluie were married at the time.

In her mother's obit, Bonnilyn is listed as Bonnilyn Millard.

Bonnilyn is not listed as a surviving sister to Jessie Stanford Davenport upon her death in 2009.

There is a birth record for a child born in Tarrant County, Texas in 1937 listing J.W. Butler as the father, but someone other than Bonniluie Stanford as the mother. This indicates that J.W. and Bonniluie had divorced by this time.

- vi. Elwyn Justin Stanford, born 27 Sep 1916, in Texas, died 15 Jan 1986, in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas, buried in Laurel Land Memorial Park, Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. He married (1) Dorothy LNU before 1940. Dorothy LNU was born about 1922, in Texas. He married (2) Alle McCombs after 1942. Alle McCombs was born 29 Jan 1919, in Houston, Harris Texas, died 2 Nov 2000. They were divorced before Dec 1950, in Texas. He married (3) Opal V. Johnson 13 Dec 1971, in Wichita County, Texas. Opal V. Johnson was born 28 Jan 1909, in Texas, died 20 Dec 1989, in Bowie, Montague, Texas.

There is a record for Elwin J. Stanford serving a sentence at Huntsville State Prison. He served a 2-year sentence (1935-1937) for burglary and forgery. He was paroled on 11 Sep 1936 and discharged on 9 Jul 1937.

The 1940 census finds Elwyn Stanford (23, laborer, chemical plant) and his wife Dorothy (18) living in Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas.

The 1942 City Directory for Fort Worth lists Elwin Stanford, laborer, and his wife Dorothy living in the city.

On 3 Nov 1945, Elwyn enlisted in the U.S. Army at Noblesville, Noble, Indiana. At this time he was married. He served in the U. S. Army from 3 Nov 1945 to 9 Jan 1947.

By 1947, Elwyn had remarried to Alle Mae LNU and the City Directory for Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas in 1947 and 1949 finds the couple living in the city.

Alle was the daughter of Enoch Matthew McCombs (1881-1957) and Maude Greshem (1885-1059).

There is some confusion about Dell's date of birth. His WWI draft registration lists 2 Jun 1885, while the SSDI lists 22 Jul 1888. Since we know his brother Fred was born in April 1888, it is highly unlikely that Dell as born that same year. And, since we know his brother Leland was born on 18 Mar 1885, he could not have been born before 1886. Therefore, we use the 1886 date for his birth.

Evidently Dell and Fred Stanford both married daughters of William and Lue Reeves in 1909 in Texas. Dell and his new bride moved to McIntosh County, Oklahoma immediately thereafter and are recorded in the 1910 census taken on 28 Apr 1910 in in Burton, McIntosh, Oklahoma. this record finds Dell Stanford (21, hired man on firm), his wife Mandy F. (24), and son (Therman G. (7/12) living with and working for his father-in-law.

Dell Stanford registered for the WWI draft in Eufaula, McIntosh, Oklahoma in 1917/1918. He listed his wife's name as Maud Stanford.

The 1920 census finds the family living in Burton, McIntosh, Oklahoma and lists Dell A. Stanford (33, farmer), Maude (32), Therman (10), Floyd (6), Stella May (4-3/12), and Ruby Lee (1-2/12).

In 1930, the census lists Dell Stanford (42, farmer), Maud (43), Floyd (17), Stella M. (13), Ruby L. (11), and Jewell (5) living in Hanna, McIntosh, Oklahoma.

Maud was the daughter of William Reeves (1867-1938) and Sophia Lou Maberry (1863-1936).

Evidently Fred and Dell Stanford both married daughters of William and Lue Reeves in 1909 in Texas.

The 1910 census finds the family living in Clayton, Fisher, Texas and lists Fred J. Stanford (19), Lee R. (17), and Judson D. (2/12).

Fred's death date engraved on his gravestone, 15 Feb 1910, is obviously incorrect since Fred and his family were counted in the 1910 census in Fisher County, Texas on 10 Apr 1910. Fred no doubt joined his brother Dell in McIntosh County, Oklahoma census sometime after the census was taken there on 28 Apr 1910 and died thereafter.

A family story is that Fred died of pneumonia.

Rosalee was the daughter of William Reeves (1867-1938) and Sophia Lou Maberry (1863-1936).

About 1912, Rosalee remarried to James Martin Rawls (1890-1970) with whom she had six children.

On 5 Jun 1917, John Paul Stanford registered for the WWI draft in Waco, McLennan, Texas. At that time, he was married, had one child, and was working as a tailor, cleaner, and presser (evidently in a dry cleaning shop).

The 1930 census finds the family living in Houston, Harris, Texas and lists John P. Stanford (41, clerk, oil company office), Florence (37), Billie (16), Martha A. (10), and John P. (2).

John's death certificate lists his occupation as "sales, oil company".

Richard's death certificate lists him as a retired district judge and his gravestone also indicates that he was a judge.

Mary was the daughter of Edward Ramey Edwards and Jennie Maude Carrol.

The following is the story of James' death, as told by his brother Henry Leon Stanford: "Leon says he and his brother James Travis Stanford were truck drivers. When James Travis died the family hear rumors that his then wife, aka "The Woman from Hell", killed him as he was recovering from emergency surgery. After his brother died, Leon called the widow to say he was coming there and she told him not to bother as she was having him cremated the next day. For years the family didn't know what happened.

"In about 2004, Leon was still driving trucks and had stopped at a truck stop in Sheridan, Wyoming. He heard another trucker speaking with a Canadian accent and asked where he was from. The guy (Leon couldn't recall his name) said Canada. Leon said his brother used to live in Spruce Cove [Grove], Edmonton and the guy said that's where he was from. Leon asked if he knew a fellow named James Travis Stanford and the guy said James Travis had been his best friend. Leon said they heard James Travis had been killed by his wife and the guy went beet red. Then the guy told Leon the story.

"Apparently James Travis had heart surgery for an aortic valve replacement. When he got home from the hospital, his wife made him cornbread as that was his favorite food with milk. James Travis choked on the cornbread and coughed so hard he tore some of the stitches in his heart. He had to be rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery.

"When he came out of surgery he was on a respirator as he was in recovery. His wife and best friend were in the room. She told the doctor that James Travis said he didn't want to live hooked up to machines. The doctor said James Travis was still in recovery and that he wasn't allowed to "pull the plug" in any case. But, in Canadian law, if a person says they don't want to be on life support, the spouse or guardian can pull the plug if there was a witness. So, the wife turns to the best friend (aka, the guy Leon's speaking to at the truck stop) and says "You hear him say he didn't want to live hooked up to machines, right?" They guy said he had heard that, but James Travis should be given time to recover. She pulled the plug anyway, and nothing could be done because of the law.

"When James Travis was alive he told the guy that if anything ever happened to him, he wanted they guy to take care of his wife. There was a $150,000 life insurance policy on James Travis, which the widow collected. Since the guy had promised to take care of James Travis's wife, he married her. He said he had a small 100 acre ranch and with the $150K they could do OK. Well, then the guy started getting sick a lot. After 5 or 6 times in the hospital, the doctor pulled the guy aside and told him he suspected that his food was being poisoned. The doctor said to collect samples of the food she was feeding him, without her knowing, and the guy told the doctor that he was sure she would never do anything like that. But, he collected a sample like the doctor asked and sure enough it contained rat poison. The guy divorced her after that, but said she tried to get the ranch away from him. He was able to keep the ranch and escape from the Woman From Hell."

Dorothy and James divorced sometime after 1955. Dorothy remarried first to a Martin and later to a Littleton.

According to his death certificate, Melvin was found dead, apparently from natural causes, and no doctor filled out his death certificate. At the time of his death, his residence was Vivian, Caddo, Louisiana, but he was working on oil field equipment in Cass County, Texas.

Rosie remarried after Melvin Claude Stanford's death, first to Allen Wynne and later to a Murrell...her gravestone includes all of these surnames.

In 1940, the census lists Rosie Wynn (31) living with her new husband Allen Wynn (26) in Panola County, Texas. Listed in this record are Rodney Stanford (7), Claudine Stanford (5), and Melvin Stanford (2). Claude Stanford, Rodney's twin, is not listed and evidently had died by this time.

Otis registered for the WWI draft on 5 Jun 1917 in Union Parish, Louisiana and listed his birth date as 22 Apr 1889. At this time he was single and had his own farm. He evidently could not read or write as he had to make his mark for the registration.

The 1910 census finds Otis (21) living with the family of Edgar D. Brown in Police Ward 2, Union, Louisiana, working as a "hired man".

In 1920, Otis and his family are living next door to his father in Police Jury Ward 2, Union, Louisiana. The record lists Otis Stanford (30, farmer), Nora (21), and Virduel (1-9/12).

The 1930 census finds the family in Police Jury Ward 3, Lincoln, Louisiana and the record includes William O. Stanford (40, farmer), Lonaph (32), Virgil F. (11), and Artsey M. (10). Living with them are nieces Pearl J. (10) and Janie M. (5) Stanford, daughters of his brother Thomas Huey Stanford.

Otis' SSDI lists him as William Stanford and his date of birth as 27 Apr 1889.

Lenora was the daughter of Elijah Fields Aulds (1847-1927) and Sarah Meeks (1864-1920).

Children of William Otis Stanford and Lenora "Nora" Aulds:

Hales was born 11 Sep 1910, in Pikeville, Chickasaw, Mississippi, died 22 Sep 2004, in Archibald, Richland, Louisiana, buried in Lynn Cemetery, Archibald, Richland, Louisiana.

According to her obit, Atsie operated the Myrt Hales Grocery, east of Archibald, Richland, Louisiana, for over 50 years, along with helping her husband on the family farm. She also was a school cafeteria worker and later in life was a private sitter.

Myrt was the son of Alex Addison Hales and Ola Jane Gray and was one of ten children.

Myrt's family moved to Richland Parish in 1912. Myrt lived on and farmed the land that his father cleared during the Great Depression. He owned and operated Myrt Hales Grocery in the Jottemtown Community for fifty years. The general store, reportedly, was a hub of community activity and a local gathering place.

On 5 Jun 1918, Thomas registered for the WWI draft in Farmerville, Union, Louisiana. At this time he was married and named his wife as "Maggie". Thomas evidently could not read or write as he signed this registration with his mark.

The 1920 census finds the couple living in Police Jury Ward 8, Union, Louisiana and lists Tom Stanford (22, saw mill, cut logs) and Maggie (18).

In 1930, daughters Jannie Marie (5) and Inez Pearl (10) are found living with Thomas' brother William Otis Stanford and his family.

The 1940 census finds Tom Stanford (43, job worker, crew worker, any job) living in West Monroe, Ouachita, Louisiana. This record lists him as "widowed".

Evidently, Tom and Maggie separated/divorced[?] before 1940 and perhaps as early as before 1930.

The information about Thomas' wife Margaret Ann Jane Phippen Heath and their children comes from Heath family research.

Maggie was the daughter of Noel Greenbury Heath (b. 1869 in Mississippi, d. 1908 in Louisiana) and Janie Jolice Yates/Yeats (b. 10 Nov 1892, Union Parish, Louisiana).

There is a Florida State Census record from 1945 that lists Andrew J. Stanford (36, b. Alabama) working as a welder in Wainwright Bay, Bay County, Florida. This may be our Andrew since he would have been too old for combat service during WWII.

- i. Daniel James Stanford, born 3 Nov 1957, in Louisiana.

Daniel is an attorney and businessman in Lafayette, Louisiana.

In January 2015, Daniel was sentenced to more than 10 years in prison for an elaborate scheme to sell synthetic drugs re-branded as potpurri. He must spend 121 months behind bars and was also ordered to serve six years of supervised release. He and his seven co-conspirators were indicted in September 2012 as part of an investigation into Curious Goods LLC, a Lafayette-based business that marketed smoking products throughout Acadiana.

Curious Goods sold an item known as "Mr. Miyagi," which was mislabeled as potpurri but was infused with synthetic cannabinoids, according to a release from the United States Attorney's office. "Mr. Miyagi" was apparently sold with the sole intent of producing a "high." The synthetic cannabinoids infused into "Mr. Miyagi" are considered Schedule I controlled dangerous substances under federal law. From March 1, 2011 to Dec. 31, 2011, Curious Goods stores made approximately $5 million from the sale of "Mr. Miyagi."

Stanford, a criminal defense attorney, represented himself at his trial in August 2014. During opening statements, Stanford told the jury he was "absolutely not guilty of any of this." But evidence presented at the trial showed Stanford was actively involved with the Curious Goods enterprise, that he was well aware the company sold "Mr. Miyagi," and that "Mr. Miyagi" was infused with synthetic cannabinoids. Stanford was found guilty by a federal jury on Aug. 29, 2014.

"Mr. Miyagi" was apparently labelled "not for human consumption." But prosecutors argued the product was packaged to be intentionally misleading. The description "Mr. Miyagi" stated it was to be used to refresh scents in drawers, closets and cars. According to the release, evidence at trial demonstrated that Stanford knew the product was being consumed by humans, that it was harmful and not a scent refresher, and that the product was marketed to young people.

"The intentional mislabeling and misbranding, spearheaded by Stanford, were part of a legal strategy and subterfuge to feign compliance with the law, to avoid law enforcement detection, and to avoid civil and criminal liability," the release stated.

The following is information provided by James William Stanford, son of Harvey G. Stanford and Mary Bernice Baxter in 2001:

"My family moved to Las Vegas, Nevada in 1936 from Matador, Texas, where my father Harvey G. Stanford was a high school football coach/math teacher, and my mother Mary Bernice (Baxter) Stanford was an English teacher. My mother and father both taught at Las Vegas High.

"They loved Las Vegas and the dryness and beauty of the small Mojave desert town that Hoover Dam, and legalized gambling had put on the map. My father coached the Las Vegas High School Wildcat football team for seventeen years. His amazing story was featured in Ripley's Believe It Or Not. His near perfect 1944 football team became famous, for being undefeated, unscored upon and having no two consecutive first downs run against them.

"My mother and father have a grammar school named after them in Las Vegas, Stanford Elementary School [in 1988]."

The following is Harvey's obit taken from the "Las Vegas Review-Journal":

"Services will be held Wednesday for Harvey G. Stanford, a long time Las Vegas High School educator and football coach who died Saturday. He was 87.

"Mr. Stanford was born September 4, 1903, in Ada, Oklahoma. When he and his wife of 61 years, Bernice, left Texas for Las Vegas, all of their friends predicted they would return in a year. Instead, he stayed for 55 years and made an impact on many youths.

"Credits to Mr. Stanford include being one of the founders of the Boy Scouts of Las Vegas and the first President of the Las Vegas YMCA. He was best known for coaching the legendary 1944 Las Vegas High School state champion football team, which was written up in "Ripley's Believe It Or Not" because opponents failed to score any points the entire season on Las Vegas High School.

Mr. Stanford led the Las Vegas High Wildcats to state championships in 1944 and 1947 and to a 6-6 tie with Reno High School in the 1938 championship game.

"He coached the team from 1936 to 1949. He taught Math for 30 years and also found time to serve as athletic director, vice principal, and discipline officer at Las Vegas High.

" 'Being a classroom teacher, I backed teachers 1,000 percent,' he said in an interview with a Review-Journal reporter in 1980. 'The players worked harder for grades. Las Vegas High School stood for good scholarship and high standards. I've coached practically every lawyer in town.'

"Mr. Stanford also had been a Sunday School teacher at the First Baptist Church for many years. He spent 17 years as a lay minister for Baptist missions in outlying areas.

"He is survived by his wife Bernice, a daughter, Jo Ann, three sons, Monte, Jerry, and James, a brother, Rama, of Wichita Falls, Texas, eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren."

Clark County School District named an elementary school after Harvey and Mary Stanford. The following is posed on the Stanford School website: "Harvey and Mary Stanford: Harvey and Mary completed thirty years of dedicated service to the young citizens of Las Vegas. This was the first time that the Clark County School District had so honored a husband and wife educational team. In 1941 these two outstanding teachers moved from Matador, Texas. They arrived in a developing community to become a mentor, teacher, coach, friend and role model for countless hundreds of youth."

The following is Bernice's obit taken from the "Las Vegas Review-Journal":

"Bernice Stanford, a 58 year Las Vegas resident and a long time teacher and guidance counselor at Las Vegas High School died Thursday. She was 86.

"Mrs. Stanford was an English teacher at the high school from 1941 to 1969, when she retired. Her husband, the late Harvey Stanford, was the head football coach there for several years and served as an assistant principal and athletic director until his retirement in 1966.

"Bernice Stanford was born May 30, 1907, in Lewisville, Texas. She graduated from North Texas State University and married Harvey Stanford in 1929. The couple lived in Electra, Texas, and later moved to Matador, Texas, where they both worked as teachers.

"In 1936, the family moved to Las Vegas, and a few years later they both were working at Las Vegas High School.

"Bernice was a charter member of Chapter P of the Las Vegas PEO sisterhood and was chairman of the board of Christian Education for First Baptist Church. In 1988, Stanford Elementary School was named for her and her husband, who died in 1991.

"Bernice is survived by her daughter Jo Ann, sons Jerry, Monte, and James, eight grandchildren, and four great grandchildren."

Frank registered for the WWI draft and stated his birth date as 20 Nov 1896. He served during WWI. He was inducted at Deland, Florida on 26 Aug 1918 and was honorably discharged on 8 Jan 1919.

In the 1920 census, Frank (20, chauffeur, truck) and his wife Laura (18) are living with his parents in Orange City, Volusia, Florida and no children are listed.

Laura was the daughter of Robert Howard Hyman (b. abt 1866, South Carolina) and his wife Bertha Mary (b. abt 1874, Florida). In 1910, the Hyman family lived in Lake Helen, Volusia, Florida, where Robert worked as a laborer in the citrus groves.

On 12 Sep 1918, James registered for the WWI draft in Nashville, Berrien, Georgia. He listed his closest living relative as Mrs. May Stanford and his occupation as farming.

He married (1) Dorothy Ruth Stephenson 1947, in Pinellas County, Florida. They were divorced. He married (2) Gloria LNU 1955. They were divorced. He married (3) Miriam E. Betzer 1957. Miriam E. Betzer was born 1934, in Ohio.

It appears that Robert E. Stanford enlisted in the U.S. Army on 27 Aug 1940 at Jacksonville, Duval, Florida. In his application, he listed his birth date as 1921, which was probably a lie since he was not yet 18 years old in 1940 to be able to enlist.

Robert evidently moved around a lot. We find records for him in Florida, Minnesota, and Oregon.

Robert and Miriam met in Texas where both were serving in the military. The couple had no children.

Based on Daniel Earl Stanford's obit, he had a half-brother named David Stevenson, indicating that Dorothy had been married previously.

Miriam is the daughter of Ellis H. Betzer (1905-1992) and Mabel Betzer (1904-1985).

In 2008, Miriam was living in the Mount Tabor area [near Lake City] of Columbia County, Florida, where she and Robert moved about 1961.

Dr. Augustus Lamar Stanford (BS Physics 1952, MS Physics 1957, PhD Physics 1958) joined the faculty of the Georgia Institute of Technology in 1964 as an Associate Professor of Physics, specializing in solid state physics and biophysics. He was promoted to the rank of Professor in 1972. He taught generations of Georgia Tech students until he retired in 1996. He wrote a textbook that was adopted by the School of Physics and, later, by several other universities throughout the country.

After his retirement, Gus became associated with the Fernbank Museum of Natural History in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia.

The following is the obituary published by the Georgia Institute of Technology, Vol. 4, "Resonance", 2009:

"It is the sad duty of the School of Physics to report the death of Professor Emeritus Augustus L. (Gus) Stanford on September 14, 2008. Professor Stanford was born in 1931 and received both his undergraduate and graduate education at Georgia Tech. He obtained his B.S. degree in physics in 1952 and in 1956 took an appointment as an Instructor in the School of Physics while still pursuing graduate studies. These formal studies culminated in 1958 with the award of a Ph.D. He later returned to Tech as an Assistant Professor of Physics for the 1964-65 academic year and remained with the School. He was promoted to Professor in 1972, a rank he retained until his retirement in 1996. Although his research specialties were in the areas of solid state physics and biophysics, he possessed a wide range of interests and an insatiable thirst for knowledge regardless of subject. He particularly enjoyed literature. It was said of him when he came back to Physics after receiving his doctorate that he had already taken more English courses than most members of the English department. He was the author of a book, 'Foundations of Biophysics', and the co-author with James Tanner of a widely adopted sophomore physics text, 'Physics for Students of Science and Engineering'.

"As a change of pace, after completion of the latter work, he returned to his literary interests and started to emulate one of his admired models, James Michener, by writing a novel in which the prologue traced how the Florida peninsula evolved from the Earth's formation until the present day. This prologue caught the eye of Dr. E. Kay Davis, executive director of the Fernbank museum project, who requested Professor Stanford for a similar piece of writing about the State of Georgia in connection with Fernbank's planned museum. The result was a long-term association with Fernbank and a script, 'A Walk Through Time in Georgia', which ultimately served as a guide for the designers of the Fernbank Museum of Natural History that opened in 1992.

"Of Gus Stanford's many contributions to research and education, the most memorable for generations of Tech students, however, were his lectures in introductory physics. Indeed, for many students, the name of Stanford became synonymous with sophomore physics. They felt that they wouldn't be able to understand the subject unless they had taken it from Professor Stanford. His lectures were characterized by a clarity and humor that his students genuinely appreciated.

"Among his colleagues, Gus Stanford's expository skills, of course, became legendary. Typical of the stories that circulated about his expository prowess was one dating from a time before excessive speeds were commonplace on Atlanta's highways. Gus had been caught going 85 mph on the downtown expressway, and when brought before the judge was easily able to avoid punishment for the infraction by his clever use of logic and physical laws. While no doubt apocryphal, this story does reflect the respect that his colleagues had for Gus's abilities.

"His contributions to the Institute and to the School of Physics will live on not only through his writings but also through the collective memory of those who knew him."

Charles Parks<sup>9</sup> Stanford, Jr. (Charles Parks<sup>8</sup>, John Jerome<sup>7</sup>, David Porter<sup>6</sup>, Joshua<sup>5</sup>, Joshua<sup>4</sup>, Jonathan "Nelle"<sup>3</sup>, Joseph<sup>2</sup>, Joseph<sup>1</sup>), born 16 Aug 1884, in Wrightsboro, McDuffie, Georgia, died 16 Feb 1963, in Lee County, Florida, buried in Fort Myers Memorial Gardens, Fort Myers, Lee, Florida. He married (1) Mary Rachel Vogler 7 Feb 1907, in Florida. Mary Rachel Vogler was born about 1887, in Florida, died before 1920, in Florida. He married (2) Grace C. Thompson 13 Mar 1920, in Duval County, Florida. Grace C. Thompson was born about 1893, in Alabama, died 1943, in Jacksonville, Duval, Florida.

The 1910 census finds P.C. Stanford (25, laborer, R.R. shop), Mary (23), and Chas. W. (2) living in Fort Pierce, St. Lucie, Florida.

Charles registered for the WWI draft in Duval County, Florida. At the time, he was living in South Jacksonville, Duval, Florida. He was married and working as a driller.

Mary died before 1920 since the 1920 census lists C.P. Stanford (35, steel worker, ship yard) as a widower and living in the household of Grace Thompson (a widow) with two of his children, William (11) and John P. (5), in Jacksonville Ward 5, Duval, Florida.

The 1930 census finds the family living in Jacksonville, Duval, Florida. This record includes Charles P. Stanford (46, farmer), Grace (37), William C. (22, salesman, auto accessories), Wade (17), John P. (15), and Francis (13). Living with them is Regina Thompson (11), Grace's daughter by her first marriage. [For unknown reasons, Wade and Francis are not listed in the 1920 census.]

The 1945 Florida State Census finds C.P. Stanford (61, laborer) living in Lee County, Florida, near his son Ernest's family. At this time, Charles was a widower and apparently did not remarry.

Some researchers find that Mary was the daughter of August William Vogler (1844-1928) and Venitia Everena Buck (1854-1905). However, she is not listed in the 1900 that finds the family living in Precinct 2, Polk, Florida, so this connection is probably not valid.

There is a Florida death record for a Mary R. Stanford who died in 1919 in Jackson County, Florida. We don't know if this is our Mary or not.

This was Grace's second marriage...Thompson was the surname of Grace's first husband.

On 27 Feb 1942, Lloyd enlisted in the Army Air Corps as an aviation cadet at Daniel Field, Augusta, Richmond, Georgia. At the time he had completed 1 year of college and was single.

On 10 Oct 1943, 2/Lt Lloyd Stanford was a bombardier on a B17G flying from England to bomb

Munster, Germany. The plane was shot down over France, but Lloyd was rescued by members of the French underground and escorted safely along escape route "Comete" through the western Pyrenees in December 1943. There is a Begium website, [www.cometeline.org, that provides the details of this mission and Lloyd's escape (though it is in French).]

After the war, Lloyd returned to Augusta, Richmond, Georgia where he worked for Southern Bell. He was transferred to Columbus, Mucogee, Georgia in 1954.

Martha was the daughter of Spann C. VanDuesen and Agnes McNeilly. Martha's father was a native of Augusta, Richmond, Georgia and the family returned there from Massachusetts about 1936.

She graduated from Augusta College in 1943 and married Lloyd A. Stanford March 24, 1944. The family settled in Columbus, Georgia in 1954 and joined the First Presbyterian Church. She immediately became active in the children's Sunday school department and the Women of the Church serving as a teacher and circle leader. She also served in many capacities in her children's schools and became very active as a Girl Scout Leader and Trainer. In 1970 she became the Program Director for the Girls Club of Columbus, now Girls Inc. Known by her camp name, Beaver, she was a much beloved mentor, teacher and friend to countless girls. In 2012 she was honored by many of those girls with a luncheon and award ceremony in which their stories of her influence on their lives were recounted and celebrated. She was a member of the Quota Club and served as its President. After retiring, she again became very active in her church, serving as President of the Presbyterian Women. She was honored with a Life Membership from that group. She was ordained as an Elder and served as a Stephen Minister. Even though her sight failed, she dedicated many hours to Bible study. She was an active participant in the Prison Ministry and was dedicated to the Global Missions program. As a result, in 2012 she was given the Mildred Frazer Kinnett Award for Global Missions.

He married (1) Roberta A. LNU about 1959. Roberta A. LNU was born 15 May 1942, in Detroit, Wayne, Michigan, died 3 Jan 1995, in Augusta, Richmond, Georgia, buried in New Hope Cemetery, Dallas, Paulding, Georgia. They were divorced before 1982, in Georgia. He married (2) Constance Pearl "Connie" Murray about 1982. Roberta remarried to a Denison after her divorce from Bob Stanford.

Connie was the daughter of George White Murray (1910-1962) and Gladys Cannady (1916-1985).

This was Connie's second marriage. Prior to 1956, Connie married Danny Bruce Coulthurst, b. 14 Aug 1929, Washington, d. 10 Feb 1986, Washington. Danny was born in Bellingham, Washington and the City Directory for 1956 finds the couple living there. City Directory entries for 1958 and 1958 list the couple living in Seattle, Washington. Connie and Danny had one son, Richard "Rick" Coulthurst who, at the time of Connie's death, was living in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Connie and Danny divorced sometime before 1969.

At the time of her death, Connie was living in North Augusta, Aiken, South Carolina.

Irby was a member of Masonic Lodge 710, Martinez, Columbia, Georgia.

In 1954, the Augusta City Directory lists Irby F. Stanford Jr. working as an attendant at the VA hospital and living with wife Louise on Rt. 1, Martinez, Georgia. The 1952 Augusta City Directory provides this same information, but does not list Louise, indicating the couple married sometime in late 1952 or in 1953.

He married Mary F. Kemmis 29 Sep 1956. Mary F. Kemmis was born 7 Jul 1936, in Michigan.

Porter and Don married sisters.

Porter attended Lincoln High School, Ferndale, Oakland, Michigan and was a 1947 graduate of the Henry Ford Trade School in Dearborn, MI. Participation in the trade school was by invitation only and was very difficult to be accepted into the program. Once completed with the program, Porter was transitioned into the Dearborn, MI Ford Plant as a Journeyman Tool and Die Maker.

In 1950 Porter was drafted into the U.S. Army and served during the Korean War from 1950 until 1952.

When finished serving his country he worked for Chrysler Missile and Vought Corporation as a Quality

Engineer.

In 1979, he was transferred to Lima and worked with General Dynamics as a Quality Engineer and worked there until he retired in 1993.

- iii. James E. "Jim" Stanford, born about 1960, in Michigan. He married Cindy Cynthia A. Elgert 29 Dec 1990, in Allen County, Ohio. Cindy Cynthia A. Elgert was born about 1953, in Ohio.

In the 1930 census, each member of the family is listed as a patient in the Jefferson County Tuberculosis Hospital in Precinct 1 [Beaumont], Jefferson, Texas. This record includes John C. Stanford (21), Emma A. (20), Ray Louis (2), and Edwin C. (5/12). [The Ray Louis Stanford listed in this record is actually Ray Louis Collins, born 20 Jun 1928 in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas.]

John died at the Jefferson County Tuberculosis Hospital in 1932 of chronic pulmonary tuberculosis that, according to his death certificate, he contracted in 1930. Oddly, this record states that her body was removed to Nacodogoches, Texas.

Also in 1940, the census lists Nora Stanford (68) living in Jefferson County, Texas. Living with her is grandson Curtis Stanford (10). Curtis Stanford is obviously the Edwin Curtis listed in the 1930 census record who is being raised by his grandmother and other Stanford relatives.

Emma was the daughter of Ray Steven Yaw (1881-1950) and Margaret Mae "Maggie" Arenó (1890-1955).

In 1910, the census lists Maggie Yaw (19) living in Police Jury Ward 4, Calcasieu Parish, Louisiana with her two sons Steven (3) and Thomas (1-5/12). This record shows that she is married, but husband Ray Steven Yaw is not listed in this record.

Evidently, Ray and Maggie divorced before 1918 since Ray did not list Maggie as his closest contact when he registered for the WWI draft in Clacasiou Parish, Louisiana on 12 Sep 1918.

The 1920 census lists Emma Yaw (9) living with her mother Margaret Yaw and brothers Steven and Thomas Yaw in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas. This record indicates that her parents were divorced. [Margaret Areno Yaw later married Strange Edward Rohrer, who was living with the family as a boarder in 1920.]

Before marrying John Curtis Stanford, Emma had been previously married to Buford Collins and had a son by him, Ray Louis Collins (born 20 Jun 1928, Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas; died 21 Jul 2014, Sulphur, Calcasieu, Louisiana). Ray's birth certificate lists his parents as Buford Collins and Emma Alice Yaw. This record also indicates that Alice was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana, but most other records indicate that she was born in Jefferson County, Texas.

The 1940 census lists Margaret E. Rohrer (49) living in Sulphur, Calcasieu, Louisiana. Living with her are four of her Rohrer children and Emma Le Bouef (29, waitress, caf), listed as her daughter. Evidently, sometime after John Curtis Stanford's death, Emma Yaw Stanford married a "Le Bouef." This census record also includes Ray Louis Collins (11), listed as "grandson."

Sometime after 1940 and before her death in 1944, Emma married a "Randolph:" the name on her death certificate is listed Emma Alice Randolph and her gravestone shows her name as Emma Yaw Randolph.

Emma's death certificate shows that she died of a skull fracture and severe brain injury resulting from an automobile accident on the Del Rio-Eagle Pass Highway in Maverick County, Texas. This certificate lists her mother as Margaret Roher [her father is listed as "unknown"] and her place of residence as Sulphur, Louisiana. She was a nurse at this time and married, but her husband's name is not listed in the census record.

The date of death on her gravestone is incorrect: she died on 9 April 1944, not 9 April 1943 as engraved. The date of birth on her gravestone is also incorrect: her death certificate lists her date of birth as 19 July 1911, not 1 Jul 1910 as engraved on her gravestone. The 19 July 1911 birth date corresponds to the information on the birth certificate for her son Ray that listed her "age at last birthday" as 17.

Children of John Curtis Stanford and Emma Alice Yaw:

- 1264      i. Edwin Curtis Stanford, born 3 Oct 1929, in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas, died 30 Apr 2003, in Sour Lake, Hardin, Texas.

Perry's birth record lists his date of birth as 1917, while the SSDI lists it as 1918.

H.P. Stanford enlisted in the U.S. Army on 28 Jun 1943 in Houston, Harris, Texas. His enlistment record indicates that he had completed 1 year of high school and he was married.

Viola was the daughter of John Bunyon VanMeter (1889-1965) and Louise Bertha Johnson (1185-1970).

Children of Oliver Hazard Perry Stanford, Jr. and Viola Alice Vanmeter:

- i. Elizabeth Louise Stanford, born 18 Mar 1941, in Jefferson County, Texas. She married Jerry Kenneth Edmonds about 1960, in Kerr County, Texas.

The couple divorced on 3 Dec 1974 in Jefferson County, Texas.

In the 1930 census, Minnie Stanford (38) is listed as a widow living in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas. Living with her are her sons Clyde (25, automobile mechanic) and Leland (20, surveyor, oil company). This record shows that Clyde is married, first married when he was 21 years old (abt 1926).

Despite the 1930 census that indicated that Clyde and Jessie were still married, they evidently were not living together and the marriage soon ended. Both the 1935 and 1937 City Directory for Beaumont, Texas lists Clyde A. Stanford, mechanic, living with his widowed mother. The City Directory for Beaumont, Texas lists Clyde Stanford in 1943 as Clyde Stanford, "opr" [probably the operator of a service station.]

Jessie remarried before 1940 to a LaSalle.

Based on the City Directory for Beaumont, Texas from 1953-1956, Clyde and Joline Stanford lived in the city. However, the City Directory listings from 1957-1959 include Joline, a nurse, only.

After divorcing from Clyde Stanford, Jessie married Anthony "Tony" LaSalle (1908-1977) before 1940. In the 1940 census, the family is living in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas. This record lists Anthony Lasalle (30, plumber), Jessie Lee (29), and Clyde Stanford (11).

Jessie's name appears on Clyde Jr.'s death certificate.

Children of Clyde Allen Stanford and Jessie Lee Harrott:

- 1266      i.    Clyde Allen Stanford, Jr., born 20 May 1929, in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas, died 22 Mar 1956, in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas.

He married (1) Merle Bell Cole 25 Nov 1931, in Lake Charles, Calcasieu, Louisiana. Merle Bell Cole was born 5 Jun 1910, in Silsbee, Hardin, Texas, died 28 Dec 1993, in Puyallup, Pierce, Washington, buried in Village Mills Cemetery, Village Mills, Hardin, Texas. They were divorced 27 Oct 1945, in Louisiana. He married (2) Ida Dorothy "Dot" Cartwright. Ida Dorothy "Dot" Cartwright was born 26 Sep 1913, in Dickinson, Galveston, Texas, died 16 Apr 2004, in Houma, Terrebonne, Louisiana, buried in Mount Pisgah Cemetery, Woodville, Tyler, Texas.

The 1935 City Directory for Beaumont, Texas lists Leland R. Stanford and his wife "Merle" living in the city.

In 1940, the census finds the family living in Beaumont, Jefferson, Texas and lists Leland R. Stanford (31), Merle B. (29), Leland R. (7), and Franklin M. (6).

Leland and Merle divorced in 1945 and he remarried to Dot Cartwright.

Merle was the daughter of Rufus T. Cole (1881-1927) and Mary Martha Payne (1877-1967). In 1920, the census finds this family living in Hardin County, Texas.

Merle married Hubert Mayfield Jones on 1 Feb 1949. The couple divorced on 14 Feb 1967.

Dot was the daughter of Vincent and Nancy Cartwright.

This was Dot's second marriage. She was married to Louis Lichenstein previously.

At the time of her death, Dot was living in Bourg, Terrebonne, Louisiana.

The family moved to Bay City, Matagorda, Texas soon after Willard and Alva married. Willard worked at various jobs until being hired by Skelly Oil Company, where he worked until he retired almost thirty years later.

- 1274      i. Ray Dene Stanford, born 21 Jun 1938, in Nueces County, Texas.
            ii. Rex Gale Stanford, born 21 Jun 1938, in Robstown, Nueces, Texas.

Rex G. Stanford received his Ph.D. in psychology at the University of Texas at Austin in 1967 with a dissertation in cognitive psychology. During his university training, he held summer research fellowships under J. B. Rhine at Duke University and, later, at the Institute for Parapsychology, where he also did postdoctoral work. He served as President of the Parapsychological Association in 1973 and 2007, and he has held most of the major offices in that organization.

His parapsychological research has emphasized the application of principles and methods of cognitive psychology in order to understand both extrasensory and psychokinetic functioning. He received the 1993 Outstanding Contribution Award of the Parapsychological Association, largely for his theoretical and empirical work on need-serving nonintentional extrasensory response. He has investigated response factors as predictors of ESP-task success and has studied psi-conducive states, including through the use of EEG. He published a major meta-analysis of the hypnosis-ESP literature that carefully reviewed the claims in this area (co-authored by Adam Stein).

He has received grants or awards from the Parapsychology Foundation (New York) and the McDonnell Foundation (Saint Louis, MO) and has made parapsychological or psychological presentations at meetings or forums of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Psychological Association, the American Psychological Society, the Bial Foundation (Portugal), the Parapsychology Foundation (New York), the Parapsychological Association, and Sllskapet fr Parapsykologisk Forskning (Society for Parapsychological Research, Stockholm, Sweden). He has a total of over 130 publications, including 24 book chapters.

He is a strong advocate of the position that the advancement of parapsychology requires hypothesis development based on information from a wide range of sources from folklore, from field studies, and from the laboratory always, ultimately, tested by rigorous standards. He also believes that to advance parapsychology, parapsychologists would do well to make methodological, conceptual, and empirical contributions not only to parapsychology but, also, to non-psi scientific domains. Solving the puzzles posed by psi research likely will require advancements in more traditional scientific fields, something to which parapsychologists can and should, in his view, actively contribute.

Currently (2008), he is Professor of Psychology, St. John's University, Jamaica, NY, teaching cognitive and social psychology (graduate and undergraduate) and personality psychology (undergraduate).

While census records from his youth show his name as "Ellis R.", Edgar apparently had his name changed when he became an adult.

The year of birth on Edgar's gravestone, 1892, is incorrect.

In 1917, Edgar registered for the WWI draft in Franklin County, Kansas. At the time, he was living in Ottawa, Franklin, Kansas and working as a machinist for the Atcheson, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railroad.

The 1920 census finds Edgar (25), his wife Minnie (23), and son Joseph (11/12) living in Ottawa, Franklin, Kansas where Edgar is a foreman at the RR roundhouse.

The 1921 City Directory for Ottawa, Kansas lists Edgar R. Stanford, foreman, A.T. & S. F. Ry. His wife is listed as Minnie B.

Sometime after 1921, Minnie either left Edgar, with the children, or died. No record for her after 1921 has yet been found.

In 1930, the family was living in Buffalo, Erie, New York where Edgar was a heating service engineer. The census lists Edgar (36), his new wife Clara (29), and children Joseph R. (11), Nita J. Based on the ages of Betty Jean, who was born in Kansas, and Jack, who was born in New York, the move to New York was made about 1927 and the couple appear in the 1929 City Directory for Buffalo.

The 1940 census finds the family living in Haverford, Delaware, Pennsylvania. This record lists Edgar R. Stanford (46, railway sales engineer), Clara V. (39), Edgar V. (18), Bely J. (13), Jack Leeland (11), and Patricia (3/12).

Dewitt was an orthopedist. He graduated from Columbus High in Columbus, Muscogee, Georgia and attended college and medical school at Emory University, where he was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary society and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

He met his first wife Nelle while he was in residency at Grady Hospital in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia while Nelle was studying there for her RN degree.

During the Korean War, he served in the U.S. Army, then joined the orthopedic practice of Dr. Gene Jewitt, later establishing his own practice. He contributed his time to the orthopedic residency program at Orange Regional Medial Center, volunteered his time to several crippled children homes, was active in Young Life and served as the team doctor for Edgewater High School in Orange County, Florida.

Nelle was the daughter of Henry Hayes Hill (1896-1961) and Velma Cebelle Rogers (1894-1988).

She graduated from Orlando High School in 1941 and continued living and working in Orlando for the next two years to save money for nursing school. She graduated in 1946 with a R.N. degree from Grady Hospital nursing school in Atlanta, Georgia. During her time in nursing school, she met and married Freeman DeWitt Stanford, who had graduated from Emory University Medical School and was in his residency at Grady Hospital.

While her children were small, she put her nursing career aside and concentrated on raising her family. During that time she was active in the Orange Country Medical Auxiliary, the PTA and American Field Services. She was awarded a lifetime membership to the PTA due to her many years of service, and her involvement in the American Field Service led her family to host a high school student from Argentina for one year in their home in 1966. She was also active in College Park United Methodist Church, participating in the Fellowship Class Sunday School and her Women's Circle. Although she did not work during her children's formative years, she kept active in her local medical society. In the early 1950's she accompanied her husband and Dr. Gene Jewett on many trips to the east coast of Florida to help with orthopedic surgeries as there were no orthopedists from Vero Beach to Jacksonville during that time. In the early 1960's she also helped design, build, and work in her husband's orthopedic doctor's clinic directly across the street from Orange Memorial Hospital, now known as Orlando Health.

In 1968, after she and Freeman Dewitt Stanford divorced, she went to work as the camp nurse for Eagle's Nest Camp in western North Carolina. Later she became the administrator of the camp under Dr. Alex Waite, camp director. That became her full time job for the next seven years during which time she and her children attended camp during the summers.

Following that, she went back to work full time as a R.N. She first worked for three years at Great Oaks Village, the Orange County residential facility for youth in the judicial system, and then for three years as a nurse at Florida Hospital. Wanting to be more involved with her patients, she decided to work for Visiting Nurses Association as a home health nurse in the Orlando area. In 1977 she decided to semi-retire doing only occasional private duty work. During that time she was introduced to Hospice of Central Florida where she rediscovered her true passion for nursing care. Planning to work only part time, she soon began work for Hospice full time for the next seven years. She fully retired from nursing at the age of 72 when Hospice of Central Florida was taken over by Vitas Hospice.

Henry King Stanford was (uniquely) president of five different universities :

1. President of Georgia Southwestern College, Americus, Georgia (1948 - 1950) 2. President of Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Georgia (1953 - 1956) 3. President of Birmingham Southern College, Birmingham, Alabama (1957 - 1962) 4. President of the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Florida (1962 - 1981) 5. President of the University of Georgia (UGA), Athens, Georgia (1986 - 1987).

After his father died when he was 9, Henry Jr. was reared by his mother in a small town near Atlanta, earning spending money selling the "Saturday Evening Post" during the late 1920s. He graduated from Emory College in 1936. There he met Ruth and they married soon after graduation. In 1940, he obtained his M.A. degree from Emory and in 1949 received a Ph.D. in public administration from New York University. In 1961, Henry earned an LL.D. at Birmingham Southern College.

He assumed the position as president of Georgia Southwestern College in Americus, Sumter, Georgia on 1 July 1948. Prior to this, he was Director of the School of Public Administration and a professor at the University of Denver and he taught at Emory College (Valdosta), Georgia Institute of Technology (Atlanta), New York University, and the University of Denver.

After leaving Georgia Southwestern College in 1950, Henry was Director of the University Center in Georgia and worked for a year as Assistant Chancellor of the University System of Georgia. In 1953, he was appointed president of Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville. While at Georgia State College, Henry was credited for raising morale and stopping a declining enrollment.

In 1956, the Board of Regents granted him a leave of absence so that he could serve as Chief of the New York University Mission in Turkey. His original plan was to return to the college in June of 1957. Before he left for Turkey, however, he took a position as President of Birmingham Southern College and resigned as president of Georgia State College for Women in the spring of 1956.

From 1957 to 1962, Henry served as president of Birmingham Southern College in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama. During this period, Henry was deeply involved with the turmoil in Birmingham relative to the Civil Rights movement and had a highly-publicized run-in with "Bull" Connor over integration.

In 1962, Henry assumed the presidency of the University of Miami (Coral Gables, Dade, Florida), where he served until 1981.

After Henry retired in 1981, he and Ruth moved to Americus, Sumter, Georgia.

He was persuaded to come out of retirement in 1986 to lead the University of Georgia (Athens) during a transition year after the previous president resigned following a highly publicized court case involving allegations of preferential treatment for athletes. When the Regents asked if he would serve the University of Georgia in its hour of need, the 70-year old dynamo affirmed that he would, and he served for a year as interim President at UGA. He was chiefly responsible for stabilizing the image of the University with a restless public and with ensuring that state and private fiscal support did not erode during the period when the University was seeking a permanent President and a new direction.

After he left Athens to return to Americus, the University Regents named him President Emeritus.

After retiring for the second time, he remained busy with numerous speaking engagements, prolific writing, consulting and advisory work, and the odd trip to the Nepalese Himalaya to climb on the lower reaches of Mount Everest.

In April 2007, the AMIGOS Board of Directors of the University of Miami's Libraries Cuban Heritage Collection (CHC) established the "AMIGOS of the University of Miami Cuban Heritage Collection Henry King Stanford Award", named for the third president of UM, and presented the former president with its first award. The award was created to honor those individuals who have "greatly contributed" to the work of the AMIGOS and the CHC.

During his career, he was awarded 13 honorary degrees and received numerous awards, including the

Eleanor Roosevelt-Israel Humanitarian Award; the "Star of Africa" medal, presented by the president of Liberia; the Officer's Cross of the Order of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany; and the Distinguished Service Award from the Florida Association of Colleges and Universities.

From his obit: "In addition to son Henry, of Port Townsend, Wash., Stanford is survived by daughter Rhoda S. McCabe of Atlanta; sons Lowry C. of Birmingham and Peyton H. of Salem, Ore.; sister Anabell S. Nickel of Decatur, Ga.; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren."

Henry King Stanford, in a letter to distant cousin Dr. Edward Taylor Stanford, DVM in Memphis, Shelby, Tennessee on 13 Mar 1996, states that his forbearers [Joseph Stanford] came from England to the Eastern Shore of Maryland in 1683 with "three brothers' sons" [nephews?], Jonathan, James, and Robert. The source of this information is unknown and its validity is unproven.

Ruth was the daughter of Levi Dean King (1884-1939) and Velma Brisbendine (1889-1971).

Ruth earned her bachelor degree at Emory College in 1936 and later earned a master's degree at Birmingham Southern College, Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama while her husband served as president of that institution.

Upon her death in 2002, the Georgia State Senate passed the following resolution:

Morgan Callaway "Cal"<sup>9</sup> Stanford (Henry King<sup>8</sup>, Edwin Johnston<sup>7</sup>, Herod King<sup>6</sup>, Leven<sup>5</sup>, Joshua<sup>4</sup>, Jonathan "Nelle"<sup>3</sup>, Joseph<sup>2</sup>, Joseph<sup>1</sup>), born 2 Jun 1918, in Georgia, died 26 Jun 2005, in Mableton, Cobb, Georgia, buried in Body Donated to Science. He married (1) Celeste McCranie before 1945, in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia. Celeste McCranie was born 11 Apr 1918, in Atkinson County, Georgia, died 11 Mar 1981, in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia, buried in Willacoochee City Cemetery, Willacoochee, Atkinson, Georgia. He married (2) Selina Burch after 1981. Selina Burch was born 24 Sep 1927, in Dublin, Laurens, Georgia, died 20 Oct 2002, in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia.

Mr. Stanford graduated from Tech High School and was an avid sportsman. He attended Clemson on a football scholarship. Cal graduated from Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical College of South Carolina in 1941.

Later, while attending law school at the University of Georgia, Cal started the school's wrestling team. Upon graduating from Clemson, Stanford joined the U.S. Army and served as a Captain during World War II. He was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds suffered at the Battle of the Bulge. Always a champion of the less fortunate. After military service in World War II, he attended the University of Georgia Law School. After graduation, Stanford became an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board in 1948 and remained there until 1953.

He begrudgingly retired from Stanford and Fagan in 1989. He was active in worker's civil and women's rights movements as a way of life, He was also a founding member of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Atlanta.

At the time of his death, Morgan C. Stanford was an attorney in Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia in the firm Adair, Goldthwaite, Stanford & Daniel, attorneys for union members. The following is Cal's obit published in the "Atlanta Journal-Constitution" on 29 Jun 2005:

"Labor lawyer Morgan Stanford was a stubborn defender of workers' rights. In his 41-year practice, he couldn't understand why towns wanted to kick out unions but never wanted to kick out pro-management chambers of commerce. His beloved Georgia, he said in a 1989 Atlanta Journal-Constitution article, lags "way behind in protecting the rights of the little man."

" 'He was a great champion of the underdog,' said his daughter, Margaret Pavey of Mableton.

"Mr. Stanford was an unapologetic liberal -- he had a subscription to 'The Great Speckled Bird' underground newspaper in the 1960s -- and was a Democrat who felt all conservatives should join the Republican Party. He was fired from his part-time post as city attorney for Avondale Estates in the 1950s for attending a racially integrated party.

"Mr. Stanford had been president of Common Cause Georgia and of the Greater Atlanta Council on Human Relations, which pushed for equal accommodations, school integration and employment opportunities for blacks.

"He took his daughter to a Ku Klux Klan rally on Stone Mountain in the 1960s '...because he said he wanted to know what the other side was up to,' Ms. Pavey said. 'I was frightened, but it was a profound experience.'

"Morgan Callaway Stanford, 87, an Atlanta native, died of dementia Sunday at the VA hospital nursing home in Decatur. The body was donated to Emory University School of Medicine. Memorial service plans will be announced.

" 'Morgan was a giant in the union movement in the South,' said his law partner Jim Fagan of Atlanta. 'He was dedicated to the union movement. He was very aggressive in supporting workers' rights. He was a skilled trial lawyer. His cross-examinations were phenomenal.'

"Mr. Stanford used his knowledge of the law, passion for workers' rights, wit and charm to persuade judges and juries, Mr. Fagan said. He represented electrical workers, auto workers, garbage collectors and musicians.

" 'People think everybody in the country needs a contract except the union,' Mr. Stanford said upon his retirement in 1989. 'Suppose the Braves just approached Dale Murphy and said, 'Hell, Dale, let's just live by the golden rule?' "

"He knew the moment he decided to be a labor lawyer. It was a scene from a newsreel he saw at Ponce de Leon Theatre in 1934, a scene that repulsed him. Georgia National Guardsmen, called out by the governor during a labor clash at Porterdale's cotton mill, rounded up men, women and children and herded them into barbed-wire prisons.

"A tall, bald, athletic man, Mr. Stanford woke up smoking a cigar and went to sleep smoking a cigar, Mr. Fagan said, and once was thrown out of a hearing for his cigar smoking.

"He loved wrestling and took his daughter to wrestling matches. 'On summer nights when you didn't have air-conditioning,' she said, 'he would gather the neighborhood children and teach them wrestling holds.'

"He marched in every march, supported women's rights and had drinks with feminist Betty Friedan, his daughter said, adding, 'He was never afraid of any kind of challenge.'

"Survivors include a brother, Henry King Stanford of Americus; a sister, Annabel Nickel of Decatur; and two grandchildren."

Celeste was the daughter of George Flowers McCranie (1861-1957) and Ida Deborah Paulk (1882-1921).

In 1940, the census lists Celeste McCranie (22, beautician) living as a lodger in the household of Olivers S. and Aline R. Tyner in Douglas, Coffee, Georgia. This record shows that Celeste had completed 2 years of college.

Between 1945 and 1954, the City Directory for Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia lists Celeste M. as the wife of Morgan C. Stanford, attorney.

Selina was the daughter of Roger Burch and Mary Jane Smith.

The following is Selina's obit published in the "Atlanta Journal-Constitution" on 23 Oct 2002:

"Selina Burch Stanford was the Norma Rae of telephone workers.

"For decades she toiled throughout the South, but mostly in Atlanta, as a union organizer, contract bargainer and grievance negotiator for the Communications Workers of America.

"In the late 1970s, when she was drawn into an internal struggle at the CWA and assigned to a do-nothing job in its Washington headquarters as punishment, she sued her own union, winning the case and reinstatement in her Atlanta post.

" 'Selina was a pioneer in the labor movement,' said Joseph A. "Chip" Yablonski, a labor lawyer in Washington. 'She showed that women in the CWA were not only entitled to a place at the bargaining table but could serve the union's members at the highest level of the union itself.'

" 'She could be hard as nails when she had to be, but she was the sweetest friend and best client I ever had,' Mr. Yablonski said. 'Every year for 23 years after I represented her in that reinstatement case, she sent me a basket of flowers on the anniversary of our victory. Lawyers just can't find clients like that anymore.'

"The memorial service for Mrs. Stanford, 75, of Atlanta is 10 a.m. today at H.M. Patterson & Son, Spring Hill. She died Sunday of cancer at Hospice Atlanta. The body was cremated.

"She began her career in 1945 as a 17-year-old switchboard operator in her hometown of Dublin.

"A year later she joined the union. Then, after moving to Charleston, S.C., she began moving up in the leadership ranks of the union local, eventually becoming local president, a first for a woman in that state.

"After a stint as a organizer in Louisiana, she was assigned to the CWA's regional headquarters in Atlanta.

" 'She became our jack-of-all-trades, and she mastered them all,' said Sara Smith of Snellville, CWA staff representative.

"Here she put her communications background to work in politics, organizing phone banks for the campaigns of Jimmy Carter, Maynard Jackson and Andrew Young. She was a delegate to two Democratic national conventions.

"Mrs. Stanford was appointed in 1976 to the Georgia Board of Offender Rehabilitation. She soon realized male inmates were getting vocational training and women prisoners were not.

" 'She was instrumental [in] getting women inmates instruction as telephone operators, and then jobs after their release,' said her friend Linda Ivy of Atlanta.

"Far from confrontational away from work, Mrs. Stanford was a soft-spoken Southerner who loved to bake.

" 'Her lemon pound cakes were legendary, and so was her generosity in giving them away,' said her stepdaughter, Margaret Peavey of Mableton.

"Survivors include her husband, retired labor lawyer Morgan Callaway "Cal" Stanford."

After her death, the following article, entitled "Warrior For the Dignity of Women," was published in the Dublin, Georgia newspaper:

Long before the Women's Rights movement began in the 1960s and escalated in the 1970s, one Dublin woman was out there in the streets, inside board rooms and in the workplace fighting for the rights of her fellow women workers, the right to be treated equal, the right to fair pay and the right of decent working conditions. This is the story of a local young girl who took on the male establishment and accomplished her goals, winning a few important battles on the way.

Selina Burch Stanford was born in Laurens County, Georgia on September 24, 1927. She was a daughter of Roger Burch and Jane Smith and grew up in the Burch District of Laurens County. Selina attended Laurens County and Dublin schools. At the age of seventeen, Selina went to work for Southern Bell Telephone Company as an operator. Along with many of her fellow workers, Selina joined the Southern Federation of Telephone Workers.

Miss Burch's first true experience with labor relations came in 1947 when she and her fellow union members endured a strike which lasted nearly seven weeks. That same year, telephone workers across the nation began the process of consolidating and forming a more powerful and unified single union organization under the banner of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. Following the labor action, Selina was transferred to Charleston, South Carolina. After five years she was elected Secretary of Local 3407 of the Communication Workers of America. A year later in 1953, Selina was elected as the recording secretary of the Charleston CIO.

At the age of 27 in 1954, Selina Burch became the first woman to be elected president of her local union and any union in South Carolina. She said, "I guess the rebel in me really began to come out somewhere between 1952 and 1954 when I discovered that I was doing all the work and a male was getting all the credit." In 1955 she was chosen to serve on the staff of the Communication Workers of America as a representative and organizer. The satisfactory resolution of a violent strike that year by 50,000 employees led to her election to a leadership position on the district level when she became director of the North Louisiana division of the union.

It was in the Creole State where Selina's interest in politics began to surface. She spent tireless hours to build the state Democratic party. She joined the campaign for Congressman Hale Boggs who served as majority leader of the United States House of Representatives and was a leader in establishing the Interstate Highway System and was also a member of the Warren Commission, which investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In 1964, Selina was reassigned again. This time, she came home, or close to it. Miss Burch, still yet unmarried, enjoyed Christmas visits to her old home in Dublin. Her brother J.B. Burch was a popular service station owner in downtown Dublin. She was especially close to a close-knit group of aunts known to some as "The Burch Sisters." These ladies, Ilah, Celestia and Emily, all school teachers, were also unmarried and lived together in their large two-story home on South Calhoun Street.

Seen as a tough and demanding woman on the outside, away from her formidable duties as a labor union secretary and an advocate for the rights of women to work outside the home, Selina was described as a soft-spoken woman who loved to bake. She was described as a natty dresser and a woman who exuded intelligence and dignity as she spoke. Her stepdaughter Margaret Pavey said of her cooking, "Her lemon pound cakes were legendary, and so was her generosity in giving them away." The 1960s were a decade when women for the first time began to find their way into the top echelons of governmental, religious and private organizations throughout the country. Selina Burch was no exception. With great honor, Selina held the position as Secretary of the 450,000 member Communication Workers of America union. In 1969, she was invited to Singapore, where she taught Asian telephone workers on different facets of the telephone industry.

Burch saw her role in the union and in life as a protector of the dignity of women. She told a reporter from the Malay Mail, "In the past, a woman's only intention was to marry and settle down. But now she is competing with man in every field - from engineering to electronics, and as she competes with man in his preserved fields, she must form unions or actively participate in the trade unions that will protect her rights and dignity as a human being." Selina disavowed any special privileges on account of her being a woman. "I will make sure I am not discriminated against because of my sex. Merit should be the only criterion - not sex," she said.

During the 1970s she allied herself with Atlanta mayors Maynard Jackson and Andrew Jackson, organizing phone banks of callers in their successful mayoral campaigns. In 1974, Selina was appointed director of Georgia-Florida District. In 1976, she worked tirelessly for a fellow Georgian, Jimmy Carter, in his campaign for president. It was during that same year that Selina accepted an appointment by Governor George Busbee as the first female member of the Georgia Board of Offender Rehabilitation. As a member of the board, Miss Burch began to see the disparity of vocational rehabilitation between male and female inmates. With the aid of a friend, she instituted a program of instructing women on the skills of being a telephone operator.

Always a faithful member of the Democratic Party, Miss Burch served as a delegate to two National Democratic Party Conventions.

In 1978, Selina Burch was again transferred, this time to Washington, D.C., where she served as an administrative assistant to Glen Watts, President of the Communication Workers of America. In 1980, she once again returned to Atlanta, where she served as an assistant to the vice-president of that organization.

In 1981, at the age of 53, Selina finally began to settle down. She married Morgan Callaway Stanford, a labor lawyer. Ten years later in 1991, she finally settled down and retired from the Union after 44 years of service.

Margie Olive "Ollie" Crout was born 3 Feb 1896, in Saluda County, South Carolina, died 26 Dec 1989, in Augusta, Richmond, Georgia, buried in Hillcrest Memorial Park, Augusta, Richmond, Georgia.

The 1900 census in Georgia indicates that Hugh was born in Georgia. However, later census records from South Carolina indicate that he was born in South Carolina. We don't know which is correct.

In 1910, the census finds Hugh (12) living with his Shealy grandparents in Germanville, Saluda, South Carolina.

On 5 Jun 1917, Hugh registered for the WWI draft in Leesville, Saluda, South Carolina. This record indicates he was born in South Carolina and, at the time, is working for his grandfather J. Ed. Shealy.

The 1920 census finds Hugh (22) as a partner with his grandfather on the farm in Germanville, Saluda, South Carolina. This record indicates he was born in Georgia.

In 1930, the census lists the family in Germanville, Saluda, South Carolina and includes Hugh Stanford (32, farmer), Allie M. (32), Dosie O. (9), James C. (6), and Robert H. (4-5/12).

Sometime after 1935, the family moved to Georgia and the 1940 census lists them living in Richmond County, Georgia. This record includes Hugh Stanford (42), Olive (43), Doris O. (18), James C. (16), and Robert H. (14).

Olive was the daughter of Luter Crout (b. 1860, South Carolina) and Leila Davis Maffett (b. 1862, South Carolina).

Children of Hugh Shealy Stanford and Margie Olive "Ollie" Crout:

- i. Doris Omura Stanford, born 16 Oct 1921, in Saluda County, South Carolina, died 27 Mar 1995, in Mathiston, Webster, Mississippi. She married Herbert Lamar Ellis 29 Feb 1944, in Richmond County, Georgia. Herbert Lamar Ellis was born 28 Dec 1920, in Mississippi, died Aug 1981, in Mathiston, Webster, Mississippi.

Herbert was the son of William A. Ellis and Mamie Ethel Haimes.

On 25 Jan 1946, Herb enlisted as a Staff Sergeant in the U.S. Army at Fort Worth Army Air Terminal, Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas. This record indicates he was born in Mississippi, but was living in Richmond County, Georgia (where he most probably met Doris).

- 1290 ii. James Crout Stanford, born 13 Jul 1923, in Lexington County, South Carolina, died 19 Aug 2009, in Augusta, Richmond, Georgia.
- iii. Robert Hugh Stanford, born 16 Nov 1925, in Saluda County, South Carolina, died 16 Apr 1976, in Richmond County, Georgia, buried in Hillcrest Memorial Park, Augusta, Richmond, Georgia.

Robert enlisted in the U.S. Army on 21 Jan 1944 at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Fulton, Georgia. At this time he was single, had completed 4 years of high school, and was working as a laborer.

Evidently, Robert never married.

The 1900 census in Georgia indicates that Hanvey was born in Georgia. In this census, he is listed as "Handy".

In 1910, the census finds Hanvey (11) living with his Shealy grandparents in Germanville, Saluda, South Carolina. This record indicates that Harvey was born in South Carolina.

On 12 Sep 1918, Hanvey registered for the WWI draft in Leesville, Saluda, South Carolina. At this time, he was a student. On 3 Oct 1918, he joined the Army at Clemson College (evidently where he was attending school) and served until 17 Dec 1918. He remained in ROTC until he graduated.

The 1920 census finds Harvey (21) living with his grandfather James Shealy on the farm in Germanville, Saluda, South Carolina. This record indicates he was born in Georgia.

In 1921, A record shows that Hanvey was a Senior at Clemson College in South Carolina, studying to be a chemist. This record indicates that he was a WWI veteran and attending school with an ROTC scholarship.

Reports published in 1916, 1918, and 1921 by the Tennessee Agricultural Experiment Station near Knoxville, Tennessee lists "Hanvey Stanford, Assistant Chemist" as one of the Station officers.

Hanvey married and moved to Texas, where is daughter is born, with his new wife before 1924. His daughter's birth certificate lists that Hanvey was born in Leesville, SC and was working as a chemist in Texas. In this record, Violet is listed as "Biolet."

In 1930, the census finds the family living in Memphis, Shelby, Tennessee and lists Handly Stanford (31, bookkeeper, retail coal & ice co.), Violette (30), and Anna (5). Living with them are Emma Thomas (55), Violette's mother, and Violette's grandparents Jerry Webb (73) and Sibeta [Seleta] Webb (78).

The 1940 census lists the family living in Memphis, Shelby, Tennessee and includes Hanney Stanford (41, bookkeeper, retail feed store), Violette (40) and Ann (15). Living with them is Emma Thomas (65). For some reason, Hanvey's place of birth is listed as South Carolina in this record.

Her name is spelled Violet on her Tennessee birth record and SSA records, but census and City Directory records typically list her as Violette. She was the daughter of Bolton Allie Thomas and Emma Frances Webb. .

Based on City Directory entries for 1947 and 1950, Thelburn was a policeman.

Norma was the daughter of John Marion Belnap (1883-1976) and Zina Hattie Taylor (1890-1964).

She married (1) GNU LNU. She married (2) Emmett Chester Buchanan 7 Apr 1938, in Jefferson County, Alabama. Emmett Chester Buchanan was born 8 Apr 1918, in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama.

While most records list her name as Evelyn, her marriage record lists her name as Eva Louise. Evidently, "Evelyn" was her nickname.

Evelyn evidently had two children out of wedlock before marrying Emmett Chester Buchanan. Based on the 1940 census, Evelyn and Emmett had a son, Emmett Chester Buchanan, who was born in 1939 and died in Apr 1953 in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama.

The 1940 census lists the family living in Birmingham, Jefferson, Alabama and includes Emmett C. Buchanan (21, truck driver), Evelyn (25), and Emmett (9/12). Living with the family are Mary L. Stanford (7) and Charlie M. Stanford (4), both listed as step children.

Children of Eva Louise "Evelyn" Stanford and GNU LNU:

Cause of death: COPD.

Herb enlisted in the Army on 12 Aug 1940, quitting high school after only 1 year. His enlistment record shows his date of birth as 1922, which was a lie he told to show he was 18 in order to join the Army at actual age 16.

Herbert served in WWII. On 12 Apr 1942, he was assigned to the Medical Detachment of the 3rd Armored Infantry Division at Fort Polk, Louisiana. He shipped to England in early 1943 and was wounded near Cherbourg during the June 1944 Normandy invasion. He spent several weeks in hospital in England before returning to the U.S. in the summer of 1945.

In 1942, Herbert was stationed at Fort Bragg, Cumberland, North Carolina and, while on leave, visited the family of John Branson in Asheboro, Randolph, North Carolina. John Branson was the brother of Walter Thomas Branson [see entry in this database], natives of Randolph County, who owed the plumbing and heating company in Charlotte, Mecklenburg, North Carolina where Herbert's father was employed for many years. Maxine Branson, John's daughter, was a close friend of Obara Brown and may have been the one to introduce the couple.

In August 1945, after Herb returned from England, the family moved to Charlotte, Mecklenburg, North Carolina, but the family moved around frequently as Herbert relocated to find work as a pipefitter/welder...living in South Carolina, Kansas, Virginia, Pennsylvania, etc.

Herb retired for medical reasons in the early 1980s and he and Obara settled near Asheboro, Randolph, North Carolina on land that Obara inherited from her brother Luther William Brown.

While undergoing routine medical treatment at the V.A. Hospital, Salisbury, Rowan, North Carolina, Herb died there of a stroke.

Obera was the daughter of Milas Brown and Mary Luther. [See "Brown and Luther Families" for the Brown family history and details for Bessie Obera Brown.]

Obera's name is spelled "Obeira" on her birth certificate...she dropped the "i" as a teenager. As a teenager and young woman, Obera was a singer, often performing in church choirs and at weddings in the Asheboro area.

For many years, Obera worked as a bookkeeper. Since she did not complete high school, she attended classes and on 20 Jul 1978 (at the age of 54) received a High School Diploma Equivalency Certificate (No. 108771).

After Herbert's death in 1988, Obera lived alone in Randolph County, North Carolina until 1999, when her own health began to fail. She moved to Morehead City, Carteret, North Carolina to live with her son Herbert Stanford III and daughter-in-law Janice Stanford and died there in 2004 just shy of her 81st birthday.

The following is Skip's obit published in the "Atlanta Journal-Constitution", 21 Jan 1998:

"Toxic torts, especially asbestos damage cases, were Marietta attorney "Skip" Stanford's specialty. That specialty merged perfectly with his philosophy of lawyering.

" 'He believed if you did wrong, you needed to pay for it,' said his wife, Retha James Stanford of Marietta.

"Mr. Stanford was one of the few lawyers in Georgia who specialized in toxic torts, said his wife. He spent about 80 percent of his time on asbestos-related cases. As an expert on the issue, he presented seminars at Georgia Tech during the 1980s, she said.

"The health damage caused by asbestos, used in construction from 1920 to 1978, 'was something he felt like people needed to know about,' said Mrs. Stanford. 'The asbestos companies were not giving out information on the true damages of the product. He thought they ought to pay for the damages they caused.'

"His success in asbestos-related cases grew as people became aware of the dangers posed by the product, which had been used as insulation, fire protection and strengthening material in commercial and public buildings. Homeowners began learning of the problem, especially when faced with renovation of their older houses, but had little legal recourse.

" 'For homeowners, the probability of identifying who made the product is about nil,' Mr. Stanford told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution in a 1985 interview. 'The chances of finding the name of the contractor are only slightly better than nil.' And, even if the contractor could be identified, he'd probably be dead if the house was built before World War II.

" 'It's very discouraging,' Mr. Stanford said.

"Mr. Stanford came to his specialty as the byproduct of another case, said his wife. A client was complaining of a health problem, and Mr. Stanford urged him to have it checked out by a doctor. The diagnosis was asbestosis. Mr. Stanford took the case against the asbestos manufacturer and found his professional specialty.

"Another of his specialties was wills, said Mrs. Stanford. 'He did an airtight will. None of his wills were ever broken.'

"Mr. Stanford, a native of Savannah, came to the metro area in 1941 and graduated from Decatur High School in 1954. After receiving his law degree from Emory University, he was an assistant Fulton County district attorney before entering his father's Atlanta law practice. He moved the practice to Cobb County in 1982, and today it is known as Stanford & Bohannon.

"When his law firm converted to computers, it was Mr. Stanford who designed and installed the system, said his wife. 'He was a gadget person, anything electronic. He would push to see what electronic instruments could do. He could tell you what was right and what was wrong about anything electronic. He just had a mind for it, and it was a challenge to him.' "

The following is an except from the artist's bio posted on his website: "When I first began to paint landscapes in college, European and American landscape painters heavily influenced me.I loved the immediate qualities of the Barbizon painters who, for the first time, took canvas and brush outdoors to confront nature directly.Later, the romantic qualities of Thomas Cole, his student Frederick Church, Thomas Moran and others inspired me to look for the heroic qualities in those things around me.In Florida, the expansive estuaries that line the gulf coast provided the basis for a lot of my paintings.

"I approach paint from two levels.Intensive observation during the course of a painting "explains" a landscape in its physical terms.I begin to understand how things are "put together."This is almost always a discovery process as things are seldom as obvious as they appear to be.On a completely different level, I am reacting to color, edges, values, shapes and the painting surface to produce an emotional effect.This emotional process is hardly linear.I often begin with just a tentative idea which usually involves a great deal of working and reworking, always reacting to what is put down, until something begins to "click" for me.Results are unpredictable and often produce failure; but the resulting emotional edge that successful paintings have is what keeps me going.My paintings reveal as much about myself as the image portrayed."

He married Myrtle Felicia

Kettenring 11 Sep 1926, in New York. Myrtle Felicia Kettenring was born 12 Feb 1902, in New Jersey, died 11 Dec 1982, in Lake Worth, Palm Beach, Florida.

In 1920, the census finds Henry Reston (26) and his wife Winifred (38), Winthrope's mother, living on West 106th Street in Manhattan, New York, New York. Winthrop Stanford (15), listed as "stepson", is living with them.

The 1930 census finds the family living in Queens, Queens, New York and lists Winthrope G. Stanford (28, chauffeur for private family), Myrtle F. (28), and Claire E. Stanford (1-2/12).

In 1940, the census lists the family living on 30th Street, Washington, District of Columbia and lists Winthrop Stanford (38, owner, restaurant), Myrtle D. (38), Claire (11), and Donald (3). Based on this record, it appears that the family moved to D.C. prior to 1935.

Winthrope's father, George Henry Stanford opened a seafood restaurant ("Stanford's Sea Food Restaurant") at the 11th Street Wharf on the waterfront in Washington, District of Columbia in the late 1920s as a part of the retail seafood business that he had operated since 1888. In the 1930's, Winthrope moved to Washington to help his father operate the restaurant and by 1940 was managing it. Sometime in the 1940s, Winthrope opened a second restaurant in Northwest Washington called, first, "Stanford's Sea Food Restaurant" and second, sometime after about 1960, "The New Amsterdam" on Connecticut Avenue, NW and Calvert Street (near the Zoo entrance).

The Stanford Sea Food Market and the Stanford Sea Food Restaurant was one of a number of places on the Southwest Washington waterfront that sold fresh seafood and also ran sit-down restaurants. Stanford's first opened in 1888, and it was the first business to move into the Municipal Fish Market (11th Street Wharf) when it opened in 1915. Owner Winthrope Stanford was one of several Fish Market tenants that loudly protested plans to demolish the fish market as part of the massive Southwest redevelopment project in the late 1950s. In 1959, the Washington Post quoted him as saying he wouldn't even try to move out of the old market house. "They'll have to tear it down over my head." Nevertheless, the following year, he was forced out. "It's out of the question to try to start over again," he had told the Post. "I'm not a young man."

Before the 1800s, the Southwest Waterfront formed the eastern bank of the Potomac River, but sediment accumulated as farming increased, making the river hard to navigate and prone to flooding. In 1882, plans to dredge the river were approved, with materials deposited on nearby mudflats creating Potomac Park and establishing the Washington Channel as well as the Tidal Basin.

At the beginning of the 20th century, commercial activity along the waterfront was thriving, and Southwest's population was at a peak of close to 35,000. However, conditions were poor, with many living in ramshackle buildings left over from the Civil War, narrow and often unpaved streets, an impractical arrangements of slips and adjacent wharves, and the constant risk of fire due to wood construction and storage yards piled high with flammable materials.

During the 1930s, the Southwest Waterfront underwent a renaissance, as plans to beautify the harbor were realized. The waterfront would continue its successful cargo business, supported by the municipal fish market and farmer's market. As part of this movement to "give the city back its waterfront," Water Street's name was changed to Maine Avenue in 1938 and plans were developed to transform it into a 160-foot boulevard.

Despite beautification efforts, residential areas and the population decreased, crime and poverty began to rise, and the area's reputation suffered greatly. In 1945, the Redevelopment Land Agency (RLA) was created and its urban renewal efforts saw the displacement of approximately 1,500 businesses and 23,000 residents, ultimately leading to the construction of the Southwest Freeway, the relocation of Maine Avenue, a waterfront promenade, and parks.

The Fish Market was constructed on a site that has operated as a fish and public market since 1805. The original cluster of fish and oyster houses was replaced by the Municipal Fish Market's impressive block-long brick structure by 1918, but was demolished in the early 1960s as part of further redevelopment plans.

Myrtle was the daughter of Walter Kettenring and Clara Ziebell, who married in 1901 in New Jersey. According to the 1920 census, Walter was born in New Jersey, while Clara was born in Germany.

The 1920 census finds Myrtle Kettenring (17, telephone operator) living as a roomer on West 106th Street, Manhattan, New York, New York.

The 1930 lists Claire's birth place as New York, while the 1940 census lists New Jersey.

The record of Claire's marriage to Harris Leonard Atwell in 1946 lists her middle name.

Public records indicate that Claire Elnore Stanford Atwell currently (2017) lives in New Port Richey, Florida, while it appears that Harris Leonard Atwell lives in Bermuda Run, Forsyth, North Carolina.

Harris is the son of C. A. Atwel and Lillian Smith.

In 1954 and 1955, the City Directory for Richmond, Richmond, Virginia lists Harris L. Atwell and his wife Claire E./Claire S. living in that city.

Public records indicate that George lived in Charles Town and Rippon, Jefferson, West Virginia from at least the early 1990s until he moved to Florida in 2000-2002.

At the time of his death, George was living at 208 Virginia Street, New Smyrna Beach, Florida. Also in the household was Lorena L. Stanford, apparently his daughter.

In Edge Hill Cemetery, there is a grave for George Leland "Butch" Stanford, born 10 Nov 1954 in Washington, District of Columbia, died 14 Aug 1995. Butch's grave marker reads as follows: In Memory of "Butch," George L. In 1940, the census lists Clarence Henry Stanford (19, seaman, deck seaman) living in what appears to be a boarding house with his brother Landon in Cople, Westmoreland, Virginia.

Clarence served in the U.S. Navy during WWII, enlisting on 7 Dec 1941 and mustering out on 31 Dec 1946.

After World War II, Clarence and his wife Virginia built a marine railway between a street surfaced with oyster shells and Monroe Creek in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia on the Potomoc River. "They called this Cow Town," Virginia said of what was then an undeveloped portion of Colonial Beach, a Potomac River resort since the late 19th century.

The couple lived in a house next door to the railroad, the same house Clarence grew up in, until Clarence moved the house across the street sometime after 1970 to where it stands today.

Clarence is listed as a serving member of the armed forces during WWII on the Colonial Beach Roll of Honor Marker erected in 1947 located at the intersection of Beach Terrace and Boundary Street in Colonial Beach, Westmoreland, Virginia.

The following appeared in an article entitled "The Beach Bounces Back" by Jody Schroath, Senior Editor for "Chesapeake Bay Magazine", published in that magazine on 9 Jun 2009:

"Just a little way up the bay from the Nightingale is Colonial Beach's last marine railway and a must-see stop for any boat lover. There, the doyenne of Colonial Beach's marina owners, Mary Virginia Stanford of Stanford's Marine Railway, sits in the ship's store "living room" and shakes her silver head slowly when I ask about the loss from Isabel. "So many people had trees fall on their houses," she says sadly. "In the car the next day, I would ride a little bit, then cry a little bit." At the railway, where for more than 60 years her husband Clarence built boats that are still in use today, the wind blew off part of a roof and the water rose halfway up the shop building. But it did no serious damage, since all of the electrical equipment had been moved earlier to higher ground. The slips survived, as did the covered wharf, which house both Hermione, a meticulously restored 1927 Elco, and Pathfinder II, the last boat Clarence Stanford built."

In 2014, at the age of 91, Virginia finally retired, selling Stanford's Marina, now renamed "The Boathouse Marina."

For some unknown reason, there are two marriage records for Leland's second marriage...one to "Mabel" Wood in Manatee County and one to "May Bell" Wood in Hillsborough County.

Leland's second marriage evidently did not last long because the 1945 Florida State Census finds Leland N. Stanford (35, laborer) living with his mother Anna C. Stanford (65) at 201B Hyde Park Avenue, Precinct 2, Hillsborough, Florida.

Doris was the daughter of William Henderson Tucker (1891-1961) and Ollie V. Sweat (1896-1996).

Martha Critchlow was born 28 Feb 1921, in Titusville, Crawford, Pennsylvania, died 29 Sep 2004, in Saint George, Washington, Utah.

From promotional photograph taken in 1953, we know that Jack (whom the photo caption miss-identifies as his father Worthy A. Stanford) and Martha had three children, two daughters and one son. As yet, we have been able to identify only one daughter and the son.

In 1940, Jack was living with his parents in Lake Alfred, Polk, Florida.

A 1943 newspaper announcement of Jack's wedding indicates that his middle name is Alfred...though that may be a typo since the name is spelled "Alferd" and his last name is miss-spelled "Standford." Other researchers find that his middle name is "Albert." No documentation of either name has yet been found.

The article referenced above is from the "The Blizzard" of Oil City, Pennsylvania and it provides the date and place of the couple's wedding and information on Martha's parents. At the time of his marriage, Jack was serving in the U.S. Coast Guard.

The 1945 Florida State Census finds the family living in Polk County, Florida (two houses over from John's parents) and lists John A. Stanford (frt [fruit] buyer), Martha (24), and Margaret Susan (0 [less than 1 year old]).

According to information from the Florida State Library Archives, John A. Stanford and his family operated the Stanford Fishing Resort in Englewood, Sarasota, Florida. This fish camp was located on the site of the current El Galleon Resort on Manasota Key, a barrier island just west of Englewood. The resort operated a party boat named the "Worthy A. Stanford" and Jack routinely reported local fishing news.

In 1952, George F. Dignam (1913-2001) and Jack Stanford purchased bay front property on South Englewood Beach, Sarasota, Florida and developed Holiday Shores. They also opened a real estate office at the intersection of North and South Beach Roads, naming it Key Realty. In 1959, Mr. Dignam purchased Jack's interest in the business.

The 25 Feb 1963 issue of "Sports Illustrated" reported that "Jack Stanford, an Englewood, Fla. fishing resort owner and charter boat captain, set a new Cracing run about speed record of 63.157 mph in the Sunshine City Outboard Regatta on Lake Maggiore, St. Petersburg, breaking a mark set one week earlier."

Evidently, Jack moved to Utah after he retired.

Allen's parents divorced when he was about 9 years old and his mother moved to Fort Worth, Tarrant, Texas where he grew up.

Allen is a 1974 graduate of Baylor University. Two years after graduating, R. Allen Stanford went into the health and fitness business in Texas. He bought an existing health club in Waco, McLennan, Texas and quickly expanded into a handful of other cities and small towns in Texas, including Galveston and Austin. He struck a deal with Nautilus to become an early distributor of their pioneering weightlifting machines in the western U.S.

But, in the early 1980s, Stanford overreached when he tried to expand his health club business into Houston. He planned to open a giant club in a new office tower going up in the city's downtown. However, the club soon failed when the bottom fell out of the oil market and many new office buildings in Houston were left vacant. He fell behind on the rent for his health clubs. Ultimately, his "Total Fitness Centers" filed for bankruptcy in 1982.

The failed foray into the health club business left Stanford, then 34, deep in debt and fending off more than 100 creditors. In February 1984, Stanford and his wife Susan filed for personal bankruptcy. The couple reported having $229,735 in assets and $13.6 million in debts, according to federal court records. But, by November of that year, the court discharged him from his old obligations, allowing him to make a fresh start.

R. Allen Stanford, working with his father, then used the 1980s Houston, Harris, Texas real estate market to make his first millions. Following a fall-off in the oil industry, the family bought houses and other property in the city at distressed prices. Then, as the oil market returned in the late 1980s, these properties were sold, producing handsome profits.

In 1985, during an extended stay in the Caribbean, where he was giving scuba diving lessons and looking for investors in a Houston-based real estate venture, Stanford met up with Frans Vingerhoedt, a European living in Aruba. The two men became fast friends and came up with the idea of starting an offshore bank in the nearby British territory of Montserrat.

In early 1986, Stanford's Guardian International Bank officially opened for business on the tiny island of Montserrat. Stanford's father, James, provided $6 million in seed money and became the bank's first chairman. The elder Stanford appears in photos in early annual reports and, with his gray hair, looked the part of a veteran banker. But it was his son, Allen, fresh off his bankruptcy filing, who became the driving force behind the fledgling bank.

Guardian International almost exclusively targeted Latin American customers, running advertisements in Spanish-language newspapers featuring a woman in a bathing suit under the banner, "enjoy the pleasures of life." Next to the woman, in large type, appeared the numbers 10.75%, the lofty yield of the bank's CDs.

It was during those early days on Montserrat that Stanford "developed" the history that the bank's roots went back to 1932, to a financial-services company started by his grandfather, Lodis. All the bank's early marketing material focused on Lodis Stanford and "the wise guidance of our parent company, The Stanford Financial Group." In 1992, a year after Guardian relocated to Antigua and was rechristened Stanford International, the bank put out a brochure that said the company was "celebrating our 60th anniversary" in helping customers find "conservative yet lucrative investments."

Allen Stanford established numerous financial and investment firms, of which he was sole owner, all established off-shore. In 2008, Forbes Magazine listed him as No. 605 (of a total of 1062) in their list of billionaires in the world, with a net worth in excess of $2.0 billion.

Until 2009, he resided in St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands. He held dual citizenship, having become a citizen of Antigua and Barbuda in about 2000. Stanford was the first American to be knighted by that Commonwealth nation and was presented with the honor by the then Governor-General of Antigua and Barbuda, Sir James Carlisle.

Allen Stanford publicly claimed a family relationship with Amas Leland Stanford, President of the Union Pacific Railroad and Governor of California, who founded Stanford University. When asked to look into it, Stanford University archivist Maggie Kimball didn't find a connection between Leland Stanford's father of Albany County, New York to R. Allen Stanford's great-great-great-grandfather in Georgia. She also checked the Georgia genealogy book that served as the source of R. Allen Stanford's story, "History of Stewart County, Volume II", edited by Sara Robertson Dixon, and found its pages on the Stanford family to have numerous errors. This text describes R. Allen Stanford's great-great-great grandfather, Thomas, as being "closely related" to Josiah Stanford, Leland Stanford's ancestor, though without saying how. The book said the family "is said to be of Swiss descent" and was named St. Anford, moving to the U.S. before the American Revolution. [Obviously, this analysis is self-serving fantasy!]

"I read enough to know this is not a source I would trust," Kimball said. "Good genealogists usually spell out precise connections", she said, "but the Stewart County history book does not." Virginia Stola, genealogy librarian of the Chattahoochee Valley Regional Library in Georgia, offered this: "The book is a popular volume, but information about the Stanford family and others were all contributions from people who said, 'Here's my history. Put it in the book.' "Nothing has been checked or proven," Stola said. "I caution people when they look at these things."

"It's fun to think about it," James Stanford said. "I'd like to know myself if the story is true." he said. "The life of Leland Stanford is fascinating."

In 2006, R. Allen Stanford and Stanford Financial Group donated $2.5 million to help restore the home of Stanford University's founder.

Reports surfaced in early February 2009 that the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Florida Office of Financial Regulation, and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, a major private-sector oversight body, were investigating Stanford's company, Stanford Financial Group, questioning the way that Stanford International Bank manages to consistently make higher than market returns for its depositors. Federal agents raided the offices of Stanford Financial on 17 Feb 2009, and the Securities and Exchange Commission charged Allen Stanford with "massive ongoing fraud" centered on an $8 billion investment scheme that was essentially a Ponzi scheme. Stanford's assets, along with those of his companies, were frozen and placed into receivership by a U.S. federal judge.

Stanford was arrested 18 Jun 2009 in Fredericksburg, Virginia. He was indicted 19 Jun 2009, along with a former Antiguan bank regulator, on charges they helped direct a $7 billion fraud that U.S. prosecutors said put the "integrity of the markets" at risk. He appeared that day before a magistrate in Richmond, Virginia, who ordered him sent back to Texas for a hearing on whether he should be held without bail. He was to appear in Houston federal court 24 Jun 2009. The scam used Stanford's bank in Antigua and alleged bribes to officials there to defraud at least 30,000 investors through the sale of certificates of deposit, the Justice Department said.

In July 2009, he was released on bail (and his passport was confiscated). However, he was returned to jail in Houston, Harris, Texas in late 2009.

In early January 2011, R. Allen Stanford's criminal trial was postponed indefinitely by a U.S. judge while the Texas financier receives care for a prescription-drug addiction that developed while incarcerated. Three psychiatrists, one working for the government and two working for the defense, testified that Stanford's dependency on prescription anti-anxiety medication and the after-effects of a head injury he sustained in a jailhouse beating left him unfit for the trial scheduled to start 24 Jan 2011. In February 2011, Stanford was transferred to the Federal Prison hospital at Butner, North Carolina for treatment.

On 15 Jun 2011, the Securities and Exchange Commission announced that it had concluded that certain individuals who invested money through the Stanford Group Company are entitled to the protections of the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970 (SIPA). In exercising its discretionary authority under SIPA and based on the totality of the facts and circumstances of the case, the Commission asked the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) to initiate a court proceeding under SIPA to liquidate the broker-dealer. The Commission authorized its staff to file an action in federal district court under SIPA to compel SIPC to initiate a liquidation proceeding in the event SIPC does not do so.

In early September 2011, R. Allen Stanford, who has gone through a carousel of defense lawyers, addiction to medication, and a jailhouse beating, complained of another malady, a person familiar with the matter says...amnesia. The former Texas financier says he cannot remember events prior to his arrest in June 2009, the person said.

U.S. District Judge David Hittner in Texas ordered in January 2011 that Mr. Stanford be weaned off anti-anxiety medication and anti-depressants at the recommendation of psychiatrists. The judge declared Mr. Stanford unable then to help defend himself against charges of masterminding a $7 billion Ponzi scheme.

In early Jan 2012, Judge Hittner ruled that R. Allen Stanford was competent to stand trial. Stanford was convicted on 6 Mar 2012, following a six week trial and approximately three days of deliberation on 13 of 14 counts in the indictment. Stanford was convicted of one count of conspiracy to commit wire and mail fraud, four counts of wire fraud, five counts of mail fraud, one count of conspiracy to obstruct a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigation, one count of obstruction of an SEC investigation and one count of conspiracy to commit money laundering. The jury also found that 29 financial accounts located abroad and worth approximately $330 million were proceeds of Stanford's fraud and should be forfeited.

After considering all the evidence, including more than 350 victim impact letters that were sent to the court, U.S. District Judge Hittner sentenced Stanford to 20 years for conspiracy to commit wire and mail fraud, 20 years on each of the four counts of wire fraud as well as five years for conspiring to obstruct a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigation and five years for obstruction of an SEC investigation. Those sentences will all run consecutively. He also received 20 years for each of the five counts of mail fraud and 20 years for conspiracy to commit money laundering which will run concurrent to the other sentences imposed today for a total sentence of 110 years.

As part of Stanford's sentence, the court also imposed a personal money judgment of $5.9 billion, which is an ongoing obligation for Stanford to pay back the criminal proceeds. The court found that it would be impracticable to issue a restitution order at this time. However, all forfeited funds recovered by the United States will be returned to the fraud victims and credited against Stanford's money judgment.

In 2014, Stanford filed an appeal of his convictions. On 29 Oct 2015, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans turned aside 10 arguments raised by Stanford. These included that he was not competent to stand trial, the government did not prove its case, the sentence was too long, and the trial judge was biased toward prosecutors, including by denying him a lawyer of his choice.

On 28 November 2016, the U.S. Supreme Court rejected Robert Allen Stanford's bid to overturn his conviction and 110-year prison sentence. However, the justices left in place the Stanford's appeal of an October 2015 ruling by the New Orleans-based 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that upheld his 2012 conviction and sentence arising from one of the largest such frauds ever uncovered in the United States.

Stanford is housed in the high-security Coleman II federal prison in Sumterville, Florida. He is not eligible for release before 2105, according to the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

While Allen Stanford married only twice, to Susan Jan Williamson (married in 1975, separated as of 2007, and divorced in 2010) and to Karen Elaine Kaska (married in 1977), he had liaisons and children with a number of other women. The listing provided here is a "best guess" as to these women, referred to by his father as "Allen's outside wives".

Susan is the daughter of Henry Gene Williams and Mirian Jean Williams.

Susan and Allen separated about 1997 and she filed for divorce in 2007.

We know that there were at least two Robert Allen Stanfords born in Texas in 1950. This marriage may not be our Robert's, but if so, he is a bigamist.

Notes for family of Robert Allen Stanford and Karen Elaine Kaska: When this marriage took place, Robert Allen Stanford was already married to his first wife. No record of divorce has been found.

Susan was a mistress/common law wife of R. Allen Stanford. Newspaper accounts in 2009 indicated that she goes by the name of Susan Stanford-Mahon and lives in Dallas, Texas.

Beki was another of R. Allen Stanford's mistresses/common law wives.

Louise was another of R. Allen Stanford's mistresses/common law wives. The couple broke up in 2004 and she filed suit in 2007 for support for her and her two children in Florida. This suit was settled in early 2008.

Notes for family of Robert Allen Stanford and Louise Christine Sage: Evidently, this was a "common law" marriage. Louise was reportedly the mother of two of Robert Allen's children. She filed a paternity suit against Robert Allen in Florida in March 2008.

He married Myrtice Iona Head 18 Dec 1943, in Coweta County, Georgia. Myrtice Iona Head was born 21 Feb 1927, in Georgia, died 24 Nov 1999, in Peachtree City, Fayette, Georgia, buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Newnan, Coweta, Georgia.

The following is a narrative written about Reuben Stanford by his son Emory Lee Stanford:

"Reuben Stanford was born in a house on Murray Street in Newnan. Soon after he was born the Great Depression hit and his family like most suffered. His father had trouble finding work and the family moved back and forth between Newnan and LaGrange trying to find work and provide a place to live. Finally the family settled down in Newnan where he spent his life except for his time in the Army. He was not a good student and dropped out of school when he was sixteen and went to work in the cotton mills. He met Myrtice Head and they were married in Newnan.

"They lived with his parents until he was drafted into the Army June 27, 1944 at Ft. McPherson. I believe he did his basic training at Ft. Stewart near Savannah and went to a camp near Gainesville, Texas for his advanced infantry training. He shipped out to Europe from Camp Shanks, New York on February 3, 1945. He was shipped first to England. I remember him telling of being seasick the whole trip. From England he was shipped to what was to be his unit, the 42nd Infantry Division. This unit was in the area of Strasburg, France. Apparently he got there in the early part of 1945. His unit started on the offensive in the early spring of 1945. I have heard him say many times that he crossed the Rhine River into Germany on his nineteenth birthday, March 31, 1945. His unit fought in the area of Wurzburg, Nuremburg and Munich, Germany. After the war ended, his unit was stationed in the area of Salzburg, Austria

"During his military service he received the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart. The story of his Bronze Star goes something like this. He was on patrol with his squad and somehow they were captured by the Germans. Somehow his sergeant managed to get away and recover their rifles. As they were making their way back to their unit the Germans started after them. As they entered the village they alerted the American soldiers that the Germans were following them. Since the Americans were already setup in a defensive position they were ready when the Germans entered the village and the Germans were pretty much mowed down. Daddy always said that it was ironic that he got a medal when all he was doing was running and trying to save his life.

"He got his Purple Heart when a German mortar shell exploded and a piece of scrapnel hit him in the head. He said that he did not know he had been hit until he reached up to touch his neck and felt the blood. The scrapnel had gone through his helmet and hit him in the head. He tried to take his helmet off, but could not get it off. He called for a medic who came over and pulled the scrapnel from his head and then was able to get his helmet off. The medic treated the wound and he went back into action. Years later (early 1960s) that spot on his head started to be sore and he started to rub it. Over time he began to feel some breaking through the skin and he was finally able to get it out. It was a piece of steel, about the size of a nickel, apparently that the medic did not get out when he was wounded.

"He returned to the United States May 31, 1946 and arrived home on June 4, 1946 having served 23 months and 9 days. After his discharge he went back to work in the cotton mills, but he did not like that work. Somewhere in this time period he finished high school by going to night school under the GI bill. He began to look for something different and in February 1949 found his life's work. He found a job managing a small gas station, "Speed Oil" on Greenville Street in Newnan. He started out as a salaried manager and did that for a number of years. Sometime in the late 1950s the company built a new gas station on the same site and offered to lease it to him. I remember a lot of discussion as to whether to take such a chance. He finally decided to go ahead and he operated his own service station as a leasee. In the early 1960s business started to slow at this location and he decided to lease another service station on Temple Avenue in Newnan. In May of 1964 he moved to the Standard Oil service station at 144 Temple Avenue. He operated that service station until his death.

"After he came home from the war he and my mother rented or shared houses for a couple of years. In late 1947 or early 1948, his mother-in-law bought a lot and gave it to him and my mother. He built a house on this lot on Redwine Road just north of Newnan. He lived there until late 1954 when he bought a house in the city of Newnan, 26 St. Clair Street. He kept the house on Redwine Road which his father and mother rented. We lived in Newnan until about 1959 when he was looking for a better house. He decided to move the house on Redwine Road back on the lot and remodel it. He did a lot of the work on it himself and we moved back there. We lived there until 1965 when he bought a house on Highway 16 east of Newnan. He died in the house on Highway 16.

"I remember him telling a story of setting the gas tank of the car on fire. In the days when he was a boy people drove their cars very little and walked to work. They were planning to go to LaGrange to visit relatives on the weekend and his father told him to check and see how much gas was in the gas tank. In those days the gas tank was just above the engine with the filler and cap just in from of the windshield. He took the cap off the gas tank but could not see the gas inside the tank. Thinking that some light would be a good idea he got a match and lite it to help him see. When he held it over the gas tank it set the gas on fire, but apparently it did not damage the car. I never heard anything about any damage to the car.

"I remember him telling of the first time he drove a car. He must have been about 13 or 14 and he went off with some older boys one Saturday night. They ended up in Hogansville, a little town between Newnan and LaGrange. The older boys started drinking and after a while could not drive. He knew he had to get back home. but none of the older boys were able to drive. He was able to get the car going and drove it home. Years later he figured out that me had managed to get the car into second gear and started and drove the whole 20 miles in second gear.

"He smoked all of his adult life. He smoked cigarettes, but particularly liked cigars. I can only remember him drinking once. He bought two beers once and drank them. A man from Atlanta used to come by his service station that sold tires. Daddy bought a lot of tires from him and this man would bring him a bottle of bourbon every Christmas as a gift. Daddy would bring it home and eventually he would give it to someone else. I don't think he ever told the tire salesman that he did not drink the bourbon. I never knew Daddy to even taste it."

The following is Jerry's length obit:

"JERRY STANFORD Long-time Las Vegas, Jerry Stanford, 85, passed away Feb. 6, 2016, in Las Vegas. He was born Aug. 6, 1930, in Electra, Texas. At age six, Jerry's family moved to Las Vegas. His father, Harvey G. Stanford, had just been hired as the new football coach for the Las Vegas High School

Wildcat football team and his mother, Bernice, became the new English teacher.

"On his first day of school, superintendent of schools, Maude Frazier, personally escorted Jerry to his classroom. She grimaced when she saw his traditional short suit and tie. She knew that he would be teased mercilessly, so Miss Frazier took it upon herself to buy the newcomer, cowboy boots, blue jeans and a cowboy shirt. Thus, began Jerry's Las Vegas adventure. He fit right in.

"The Stanfords lived in a house across the street from Fifth Street School. As a youngster, Jerry delivered the Las Vegas Review-Journal on horseback. Stanford played football for his father, and earned all-state wide receiver honors. After graduating from LVHS, he graduated from University of Nevada, Reno with a BA degree in art.

"Stanford became a commissioned officer in the U.S. Navy and entered the Korean War serving on the USS Hanna. The Hanna came under heavy return fire from North Korean shore batteries and was hit amidships, mortally wounding a seaman, who became the last shipboard casualty killed by enemy action during the Korean War. After a distinguished career, Jerry retired from the U.S. Naval Reserve, a full commander.

"Perhaps Jerry is most fondly remembered as a history teacher at J.D Smith Junior High, where he painted lavish scenes, illustrating world history. Jerry helped to pioneer team teaching and reached hundreds of students. He was Clark County teacher of the year numerous times.

"After retiring from the classroom, Jerry, and his wife, Annabelle, owned and operated Be Be's Embroidery for over 35 years. Be Be's probably sewed your name on your letterman's jacket or created the colorful flags that adorn your school gym.

"Jerry is survived by his adoring wife, Annabelle Stanford; his two children, Deborah Stanford Feher of Colorado, and Jamie Baxter Stanford of Las Vegas; three grandchildren, Liz Feher Gilani, Philip Feher and Scott De Armand of Colorado; sister, Jo Ann Walters of Bakersfield, Calif.; brothers, Monte Gene Stanford and James William Stanford both of Las Vegas; and numerous nieces and nephews."

The 1935 Florida State Census finds William Stanford (26, clerk) living in a rooming house in Precinct 5, Jacksonville, Florida.

Polk's "Jacksonville City Directory" for 1937 lists Chas. W. Stanford and his wife Treatie J. Stanford living at 2228 Laura Street, Jacksonville, Duval, Florida. Charles' occupation is listed as "bkpr" [book keeper].

The date of death on Charles' gravestone is 1940, which does not agree with the State of Florida Death Certificate.

After Charles' death, Treatie married a Short, who soon died. She then married Edwin Chatles Cook (1904-1986) before 1945.

The 1945 census finds the Treatie living in Precinct 2, Nassau County, Florida. This record lists Edwin C. Cook (41, electrician), Juanita Stanford Cook (28), Mary C. Stanford (8), and Charles W. Stanford (5).

At the time of her death, Treatie was living in Fernandina Beach, Nassau, Florida.

Vivian Irene Cail was born 24 Sep 1921, in Kissimmee, Osceola, Florida, died 1 May 2002, in Wilkinson County, Georgia, buried in Ramah Church Community Cemetery, Wilkinson County, Georgia.

There are two 1940 census records for the family, both of which record that they were living in Kissimmee, Osceola, Florida in 1935. One record lists the family living in Highlands County, Florida and includes Earnest Wade Stanford (22, laborer, gladiola farm), Mrs. E.W. Stanford (20), and Earnest

Wade (1). The second record lists the family living in Fort Myers, Lee, Florida and includes Earnest W. Stanford (28, packing flowers, gladiola farm), Vivian (18), and Earnest (1).

The 1945 Florida State Census lists the family living in Precinct 7, Lee County, Florida and includes Ernest W. Stanford (33, printer), Vivian (23), Ernest W. Jr. (7), and Mary J. (5).

He married Ruth Hassler before 1940, in Florida. Ruth Hassler was born about 1896, in West Virginia, died Mar 1963, in Pinellas County, Florida.

In the 1930 census, John P. Stanford (15) is listed living with his parents in Jacksonville, Duval, Florida.

The 1940 census lists the family living in Jacksonville, Duval, Florida and lists John P. Stanford (26, brick mason, contractor) and Ruth (43). This record also includes Ruth's three sons from her previous marriage, each listed as "stepson," Warren Hutchinson (21, b. Ohio), Winton Hutchison (17, b. Florida), and Devene S. Hutchinson (9, b. Florida).

While Ruth's two older sons later moved on, it appears that John adopted DeVere and his surname was changed from Hutchison to Stanford.

There are two 1945 Florida State Census records for the family. One lists the family living in Precinct 12, Jacksonville, Duval, Florida and the other lists Precinct 2, Nassau, Florida. Both include John P. Stanford (31, Navy), Ruth (49), and Devere (14). The Nassau, Florida listing also includes Winton Hutchinson (23, army).

The 1940 census record includes Ruth's three sons from her previous marriage to a Hutchison, each listed as "stepson," Warren Hutchinson (21, b. Ohio), Winton Hutchison (17, b. Florida), and Devene S. Hutchinson (9, b. Florida). Other records indicate that Ruth was married to a Deyo after her marriage to Hutchison and DeVere may have been a child of that marriage. In any case, it appears the two older boys retained the Hutchison surname and moved on, but DeVere was adopted by John Parks Stanford and his name changed to DeVere John Stanford.

From his birth certificate, we learn that Edwin Curtis Stanford was born on 3 Oct 1929. Yet, his gravestone indicates a birth date of 3 Apr 1928, which is incorrect. Edwin's birth certificate also yields that places of birth for both his parents.

- i. Joanna Susan Stanford, born 29 Mar 1956, in Brazoria County, Texas.

Stanford is a self-described "trance medium" who channels messages from the "Source," believed to be his superconsciousness. In 1954, he began to receive "telepathic messages from Space People" he stated. At the time, he was associated with George Hunt Williamson, an alleged fraud and "contactee." Williamson was closely allied with "contactee" George Adamski. (Williamson was the one who took the "plaster casts" of the Venusian footprints that Adamski said he found in the desert.)

Stanford was also close with John McCoy, who at the time operated the "Essene Press." Stanford was living in the same town as Williamson and McCoy (Corpus Christi, Texas.) Williamson and McCoy helped shape young Stanford's early views on UFOs and his "standards" of UFO research. The so-called "research" included falling into trances to contact extraterrestrials.

Stanford later had a falling-out with Williamson and McCoy because of a revenue dispute. Stanford said they had ripped off his channeled messages and published them in a volume under the name "Brother Philip."

Later, Stanford got deeply entangled with a 1950s cult called "Soulcraft." Soulcraft was an occult group with a dark side. It was established by William Pelley, the leader of an American Fascist organization called the "Silver Shirts."

Stanford stated that in the autumn of 1973 his car was, not once, but twice, teleported large distances while driving to the airport to pick up Uri Geller. Stanford stated that he (along with the car!) was transported some 30 miles in the blink of an eye. Stanford said that an entity that he had conjured called "Spectra" assisted in moving him and his vehicle instantaneously down a highway.

In the 1970s, Stanford was in full swing. He began to author a series of books with titles like "The Spirit Unto the Churches: An Understanding of Man's Existence in the Body Through Knowledge of the Seven Glandular Centers From the Psychic Readings of Ray Stanford." Stanford also authored such "classic" tomes as "What Your Aura Tells Me."

The "Association for the Understanding of Man" (AUM) was a nonprofit corporation founded in 1971 in Austin, [Travis,]Texas, as a vehicle for the psychic activity of Ray Stanford. Besides its more religious activities, the association carried on a research program in several areas. Project "Starlight" concerned itself with UFOs and through it the short-lived "Journal of Instrumented UFO Research" was issued. A research division concerned with parapsychology was headed by Ray Stanford's brother, Rex G. Stanford. AUM was disbanded in the early 1980s.

Ray Stanford's 1976 book "Socorro 'Saucer' in a Pentagon Pantry" is an account of the widely-believed 1964 landing of an egg-shaped UFO in Socorro, New Mexico.

At one time, Stanford promoted the construction of a machine that he called "the Hilarion Accelerator." This device, he claimed, would transport a living human being back in time. He told his followers that the device would physically teleport people to the distant past. The machine was described as a metallic egg-shaped chamber (echoes of the Socorro UFO) that housed a human subject. Stanford said that when the device was charged to "around three million volts electrostatic charge" it would enhance the subject's paranormal powers. He eventually abandoned the machine, apparently concerned that it would send people to ancient times and that they would die there because he might not be able to get them back.

In 1990, Stanford published a book called "Fatima Prophecy." In it, he revealed the third secret of the supposed Fatima Prophecy. However, when the "secret" was finally revealed by the Catholic Church, it bore no resemblance whatever to what he had written in his ""Fatima Prophecy."

In more recent years, as reported in "USA Today" in Jan 2008, Stanford has been on the hunt for dinosaur tracks near College Park, Maryland, claiming that he's found hundreds of tracks in the suburbs of Washington and Baltimore. They reveal an extraordinary diversity of animals living in one place during the early Cretaceous period, about twice the variety previously seen from that geological period. And, he has found the fossilized remains of what he and a Johns Hopkins University paleontologist believe is a previously unknown species, a discovery he lovingly refers to as "Cretaceous roadkill." These discoveries have earned Stanford some respect of the scientific establishment, despite his unusual background. He has collaborated with Ph.D.-holders on papers and is working with the Smithsonian Institution to find a permanent home there for his collection of fossils, castings, and photographs.

Currently (2011), Ray lives in College Park, Maryland.

Susan is the daughter of Robert Leroy Naylor and Cleo Delorius Haney.

Because the use of the name Thomas Duncan Stanford skipped a generation, this Thomas is often referred to in records as "Jr."

While there are records in Texas of Thomas marrying Hiedrun Konig and Louise Anne Gregory, there is no record of Thomas' marriage to his first wife yet found except for a series of court proceedings in Houston, Harris, Texas starting in 1974 when the couple separated. By 1976, Thomas was held in contempt of court and jailed for failing to pay child support. In 1977, he was freed based on an error by the court in 1976. In these proceedings, Thomas claimed to have divorced Leona in Puerto Rico, where he had established residency. The court records refer to "minor children" of this marriage.

Likewise, there is no marriage record yet found for Thomas' marriage to Malika. Records show that both Thomas and Malika lived in Henderson, Nevada in the late 1980s or early 1990s and may have met there. Public records in 2010, indicate that Thomas and Malick were then living in Onalaska, Polk, Texas.

The 1940 census record includes Ruth's three sons from her previous marriage to a Hutchison, each listed as "stepson," Warren Hutchinson (21, b. Ohio), Winton Hutchison (17, b. Florida), and Devene S. Hutchinson (9, b. Florida). Other records indicate that Ruth was married to a Deyo after her marriage to Hutchison and DeVere may have been a child of that marriage (note age differences). In any case, it appears the two older boys retained the Hutchison surname and moved on, but DeVere was adopted by John Parks Stanford and his name changed to DeVere John Stanford sometime between 1940 and 1945.

Records for the Huntsville State Prison in Texas list DeVere John Stanford (born 1930 in Florida) as an inmate, entering the prison on 25 May 1950 and being discharged on 6 Mar 1953, serving 5 years for "rob. with firearms." This record shows that his occupation was "brick mason apprentice" and that he had served in the Army.
